North Korean Capital Bombed By 650 Planes

(By The Associated Press)
SEOUL, Korea—(AP)—At least 650 warplanes from five Allied nations rumbled the North Korean capital and smashed two other North Korean industrial centers today in one of the most devastating raids of the Korean war.

The U. S. Air Force said in mid-afternoon the continuing raid "was well on the way to being the biggest air strike of the war."

United Nations pilots reported they destroyed or damaged the Communists' army communications headquarters, three munitions factories and numerous other factories and supply and troop centers in Pyongyang, the capital.

City In Flames

The Red capital was left in flames and rubble, said AP Correspondent Stan Carter after a flight over the target area.

American, British, Australian, South African and South Korean planes from land and carrier bases also smashed Hwangju and Sariwon in Western Korea, 25 to 35 miles south of Pyongyang. They are important centers on the rail line between Pyongyang and the battlefield.

For weeks, Allied pilots had been dropping leaflets warning civilians of the impending raids, a Fifth U. S. Air Force spokesman said.

Sabre Jet Plant Strike Settled

By ROWLAND EVANS JR.
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Defense officials breathed easier today following agreement between the North American Aviation Co. and CIO Auto Workers on a plan to end a wage dispute which threatened to halt production of all F-86 Sabre jets—nemesis of the Russian MIG 15.

Top Air Force officials said even a one-day shutdown of the company's 17 aircraft plants in California and Columbus, Ohio, would be catastrophic. They had made several pleas to the union and the company to compromise differences.

The two sides late yesterday, following a week of negotiation guided by the federal mediation service, agreed to submit their dispute to an impartial, three-man fact-finding board whose recommendation will be binding.

President Truman was elected by both sides to name the three-man board. He was expected to do so at an early date.

The agreement to send the wage issue to binding arbitration includes three other commitments:

1. The company said it would add 12 cents an hour, now being paid as a cost-of-living bonus, to the basic wage. This means that the 12 cents, accumulated over the past two years under a cost-of-living escalation clause, remains a part of basic wage rates even if living costs go down.

2. Retroactivity to last April 28 of whatever wage increase the arbitration panel recommends.

Nurse Finds Husband Slain In Ambulance

LINCOLN, Calif.—(AP)—A nurse opened an ambulance door last night to find the body of her husband, fatally shot by a four-year-old boy with a rusty .22 rifle found in a garage.

Lincoln police chief Robert Jimenez said Louis Procissi, 40, was shot by Walker Hagan Jr., while Procissi and two fellow pottery workers were riding home on bicycles.

Procissi died enroute to the Lincoln Clinic, where his wife, Josephine, was on duty as a receiving nurse.

Appropriations Bill Signed By President

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman yesterday signed the $1,015,981,710 appropriations bill that pays for operations of the state, commerce and justice departments, and the judiciary during fiscal 1953.

About 228 million dollars less than budget requests, the total is broken down to give the State Department $217,701,000, Justice $184,293,000, Commerce $386,588,000 and the courts $27,398,000.

Republicans Draft Four-Year Program To Oust Democrats

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
CHICAGO—(AP)—Weary of name-calling and intra-party feuds, Republicans today had a four-year program with which they hope to drive the Democrats from office.

The official 1952 platform won a roaring shout of approval late yesterday at the Republican convention. But its plank of civil rights came within a splinter of causing an angry floor fight.

Democrats were quick to chop away at the platform. Early comment from the rival camp included denunciation by two men out to win the Democratic nomination and election as president—Averell Harriman and Estes Kefauver.

Racial Issues Touchy

The racial questions posed by the civil rights issue had not been settled yesterday even while the 6,000-word platform was up for convention action.

Even as deep-voiced Sen. Eugene Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the resolutions committee

West Tests Russian Demand For Action On Unified Germany

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The western powers have submitted to Russia a four-point meeting proposal which American officials believe will test the sincerity of Moscow's demands for a unified Germany.

The proposal, delivered yesterday, calls for a meeting limited to the specific purpose of creating an impartial commission to determine whether free elections can be held throughout divided Germany.

This was the one new feature in identical notes from the United States, Britain and France which represented the sixth round in a recently diplomatic exchange going on since last March.

In the new proposals the west laid down once more the condition Russia must agree in advance that any general peace settlement be based first upon genuinely free elections in the Soviet zone, and then to the creation of a free all-German government which would have a voice in framing the peace treaty.

Moscow thus far has sidestepped

Government Washes Windows Once A Year

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Government buildings from now on face the possibility of having their windows washed and floors waxed only once a year instead of three times annually as in the past.

The General Services Administration, the government's house-keeping agency, has sent out word a sharp cutback in cleaning services is necessary because of the congressional reduction in its 1953 funds.

A GSA spokesman said the 112 million dollars voted for the fiscal year starting July—about 13 million under last year's total—has caused it to eliminate 1,000 jobs.

In addition to cutting down on washing and waxing, the GSA said it also tentatively plans to reduce the three-times-a-week cleaning of offices to one.

Trash, however, will still be removed daily.

Twins On Soo Statue Kidnaped Fourth Time

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—(AP)—Somebody's kidnaped Romulus and Remus again. It is the fourth time.

Romulus and Remus are bronze twins, who normally nestle under the statue of the Capitoline Wolf, which, mythology has it, saved the twins from the Tiber River and nursed them to manhood. The twins, according to legend, founded Rome more than 2,700 years ago.

The statue was presented the city by the late Gov. Chase S. Osborn in 1909. It is located only 40 yards from the Sault Ste. Marie police station. A beat policeman first reported the twins missing at 3:30 a. m. yesterday.

Widow Evicted Without Battle At Lapeer Farm

By WEB MCKINLEY AND JOHN MAYHEW
LAPEER, Mich.—(AP)—A sheriff's force seized the farm of an angry and protesting Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens today in a carefully planned raid while State Police sealed off the area with a tight blockade.

Unable to penetrate the cordon of 60 State Police gathered for the sortie, the 60-year-old widow's neighbors were unable to come to her aid and the raiders seized the farm without serious opposition.

But Mrs. Stevens, mother of nine children, remained steadfastly rooted in her living room chair while moving men carried out her possessions. She refused to say if and when she would budge.

Not Over Yet

While sheriff's officers pondered their next move, Mrs. Stevens' sons and daughters gathered at her side and warned that the battle was not yet over.

Sheriff Clark Gregory, who led the operation, was asked if he intended to maintain a guard on the property.

"It looks like we'll have to keep a strong guard, at least tonight," he said.

Standing by was Hendrick Stevens, one of the widow's sons, who overheard the remark and said:

"They better have a pretty strong guard."

Another son, who declined to identify himself, said, "they won the first round; let's see who wins the second."

Officers Mauled

Two earlier scheduled raids were called off to permit further negotiations aimed at a peaceful settlement. Gov. G. Mennen Williams ordered the State Police to see only that the law was enforced and bloodshed prevented.

Truce Talk Has News Blackout

MUNSAN, Korea—(AP)—Negotiators held their eighth secret session today in a futile effort to agree on a Korean truce.

No information was released on what progress, if any, was made during the 26-minute meeting at Panmunjom. Another session was set for 11 a. m. tomorrow (9 p. m. EST Friday).

United Nations and Communist delegates agreed on a news blackout eight days ago in an effort to resolve the remaining issue blocking an armistice—prisoner exchange.

A Peiping Communist radio broadcast said the Reds will continue to insist on forced return of all their Chinese and North Korean prisoners in Allied stockades. The U. N. refuses to return POWs against their will.

Quoting a special correspondent from Kaesong, headquarters of the Communist negotiators, the broadcast said:

"An armistice will result without delay if the American delegates let all Chinese POWs and all Korean POWs whose homes are in North Korea return home."

Jackson Prison Gets New Boss

JACKSON, Mich.—(AP)—Southern Michigan prison, scene of two inmate uprisings within the last three months, today was under the direction of a new warden.

William H. Bannan, a deputy warden at the Ionia State reformatory, was named provision warden of the huge penal institution—the world's largest—yesterday after the dismissal of Warden Julian N. Frisbie.

Frisbie, a former Marine corps general, learned of his dismissal in a noon telephone conversation with State Correction Commissioner Ernest C. Brooks.

Brooks said the reason for Frisbie's dismissal lay in the fact that Frisbie "had not succeeded in getting the prison under control after the April 20-24 riot."

Frisbie expressed displeasure at his "summary" dismissal, but said he had done the best he could "with the means at my disposal."

He promised his co-operation in helping Bannan break into his new position.

Prison officials said there was no immediate reaction from inmates to the radio announcement of Frisbie's dismissal.

Governor Williams said Frisbie's firing and Bannan's appointment "were done with my full knowledge and approval."

Frisbie said his immediate plans were indefinite.

"The load I have carried in the past three and a half years has worn me down physically and nervously, so I expect to take a long rest before taking on any other activity," he said.

Secret Negotiations Discuss Steel Strike And Iron Ore Tieup

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—Top level secret negotiations in the 40-day old steel strike are under way today in this steel capital.

After their first meeting yesterday, spokesmen for both industry and the CIO steelworkers were tightlipped.

A union source said a second meeting would be held at an unspecified time and place today.

There is every indication that most of the issues of the long strike were discussed at least generally at the first session.

Price Raise Sought

Ostensibly the meeting was called to talk over the industry's request to get iron ore production moving again. But a union spokesman, when asked if other issues were taken up, smiled, "you may assume that."

Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the steelworkers, and General Counsel Arthur Goldberg, head the union team. Among industry leaders present were Vice-President John A. Stephens of U. S. Steel; Vice-President Joseph Larkin of Bethlehem Steel Corp.; and Ben F. Morell, chairman of the board Jones and Laughlin Steel Corp.

Meanwhile, in Washington, Price Administrator Ellis Arnall indicated the government will answer in several days the latest demand for higher prices from the steel industry.

The Weirton Steel Company, at Weirton, W. V., filed notice July 1 for a $5.50 per ton ceiling hike on its product and unless the Office of Price Administration objects the boost will go into effect July 21.

Weirton has not been shut down by the strike and is operating under a voluntary "hold the line" price agreement with the government. The pact stipulates the company is to give 20 days notice of intention to raise prices.

Stockpiles Low

Arnall said it would be several days but not later than next week before an answer is ready. Sources close to Arnall believe he will object to the price raise.

Industry sources are worried over possible shutdowns next winter because of a shortage of iron ore. About 23,000 iron ore miners quit in sympathy when the steelworkers struck June 2.

Iron ore shipments stopped soon afterwards on the Great Lakes. The lakes are open only seven months in the spring and summer and vast stocks of iron ore are moved to stock steel mills for the winter months.

In addition to the 600,000 idle steelworkers nearly 600,000 other workers have been laid off in allied industries.

Lovesick Flier Takes 4 Lives

HOUSTON, Tex.—(AP)—A lovesick flier killed a pretty student nurse and two hospital guards who came to her aid last night, then sent a bullet into his own brain.

The outburst of gunfire began about 10 p. m. (CST) at the Memorial Hospital nurses home here, eyewitnesses said.

The dead:

Miss Carroll Cooper, 24, junior nursing student from Culman, Ala.

Robert Peterson, 64, a guard, Houston.

J. C. Fair, 69, also a guard.

Capt. Renard Haywood, 34, of Ellington Air Force Base.

The shooting started when Capt. Haywood appeared on the second floor of the nurses home. Men visitors are not allowed there. He made his way in by threatening a hostess downstairs with a pistol, witnesses said.

Half a dozen student nurses were eyewitnesses to the shootings.

The girls told newspaper reporters that Miss Cooper refused several months ago to see Capt. Haywood any more.

He telephoned the nurses home constantly, the girls said, and used various tricks—such as pretending that he was a member of her family and that someone was ill—to get a chance to talk to Miss Cooper.

Ike Defeats Sen. Taft On First Ballot

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today won the Republican presidential nomination.

In a dramatic climax to a ding-dong fight with Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, Eisenhower crashed through to the GOP accolade on the first ballot.

On the rollcall, Eisenhower first received 595 votes to 500 for Taft. But before the vote could be announced, Minnesota threw to the General 19 votes it had first given to Harold E. Stassen.

That put Ike across with 614 votes. It took 604 to nominate.

Texas and other states which had split their votes then began jumping. It was a landslide in the end.

And this feuding, wrangling 25th Republican National convention pulled itself together into a vociferous show of unity behind the five-star general with a roaring demonstration around and around this big hall hard by the stockyards.

turns were Mrs. Eisenhower—Mamie to the general—and three grandchildren, David 4, Barbara Ann 3, and Susan, six months. They are children of his son, Maj. John Eisenhower.

Ugly Words Used

The balloting capped a week of maneuver in which Eisenhower's strategists won the opening skirmishes and exploited them to take the grand prize.

The turning point had its beginnings in the pre-convention preliminaries of last week.

You Will Win Election, Taft Tells General

CHICAGO—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower called on Sen. Robert A. Taft today shortly after his triumph over the senator for the Republican presidential nomination.

He arrived, for what was an apparent effort to smooth over the bitterness of the convention contest, under police guard and the two went into private conference.

The General came across the street from his Blackstone Hotel quarters to Taft's suite in the Conrad Hilton Hotel.

The place was jammed.

Eisenhower and the senator chatted amiably, both smiling broadly as they posed together before television cameras. What they said however, was generally lost in the general uproar.

"You'll win the election," Taft told the general at one point.

Finally a measure of quiet was restored. Taft himself held up his hand and pleaded for quiet.

"I want to congratulate Gen. Eisenhower on his nomination and assure him I will do everything possible for him in his campaign and after he wins the election," Taft said.

Eisenhower, who had taken the initiative in this dramatic bid to heal party wounds, said he had come across the street "to pay a call of friendship on a very great American."

State Conservation Spending Slashed; Game Seasons Fixed

HIGGINS LAKE, Mich.—(AP)—An economy drive was approved by the State Conservation Commission at its meeting here yesterday.

The commission voted to slash $400,000 from the money to be spent on land acquisitions next year. This will leave about $100,000 for land purchases.

A cut of $207,000 in general expenses, to be shared by all commission departments, also was approved.

Docks Closed; Loaded 2 Boats

The C&NW ore docks were back again to a complete suspension of operations yesterday after a two-day renewal of work to load two ore carriers.

The crew of 20 employees recalled to load the boats were sent back home Wednesday night with no indications of when they would return again.

Two streamers loaded Tuesday and Wednesday and left immediately after loading to take their shipments to a Toledo, O., firm not affected by the national tie-up in the steel industry.

Mrs. Dan Erickson Dies Following Lengthy Illness

Mrs. Borghild Erickson, 56, wife of Captain Dan Erickson, died at 9:05 p. m. Thursday at the family home, 1115 2nd Ave. N. Mrs. Erickson, who had been in poor health many years, had just returned from Marshall, Mo., where she had been visiting her daughter.

A life-long resident of Escanaba, she was born here April 14, 1896.

She was a member of Bethany Lutheran Church and of the Woman's Missionary Society and the Ladies' Aid. She also was a member of the Woman's Benefit Association.

She leaves her husband and the one daughter, Mrs. James W. Long, and one sister, Miss Jennie Boman of Escanaba.

The body was taken to the Anderson Funeral Home. Arrangements for the services which will be conducted by the Rev. Gustav Lund will be completed later today.

Great Lung Derby Of GOP Worn Out On 5 Nominations

By RELMAN MORIN

CONVENTION HALL, Chicago —(AP)—The great lung-power derby, a strange tribal rite of Americans, howled itself into exhaustion in the wee hours this morning, having named five men as choices for the highest office in the land.

For nearly eight hours, last night and today, five bands of Republicans made as much noise as they possibly could. They used most of the known instruments for disturbing the peace, that is, cowbells, whistles, sirens, a pipe organ, tin and wooden rattles, brass bands, and not least of all, the human voice.

Mob Scenes In Aisles
History will never be able to record which group racked up the highest score in sore throats.

Nor could you say which of the five put on the best mob-scene in the aisles, waving a forest of placards, flipping flying saucers and colored streamers into the air, releasing balloons, capering, cavorting and having, generally, a high old time.

There were governors, senators, congressmen and worthy citizens, men of standing, in each of the demonstrations. They wore strange head dresses, Hawaiian leis, and straw hats with slogans plastered across the top. They hoisted pretty, shrieking girls on their shoulders, and banged each other in the eye with placards.

Of the five spectators — they are carefully arranged by vice-presidents in charge of spontaneous demonstrations — there was something to be said for each.

Warren Girls Score
Those that launched Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight Eisenhower lasted longest and made the most noise. No doubt about that.

But the blue-and-gold riot on behalf of Gov. Earl Warren, of California was somehow warmer and sweeter.

Moreover, when electricians threw a blazing, powder-blue spotlight on Mrs. Warren and the Warren's three blonde, photogenic daughters—Virginia, Nina and Dorothy—everybody joined in the acclamation.

All three, in evening gowns, were neatly curled and coiffed, smiling with white teeth flashing, and very proud of papa.

Oddly enough, there was no demonstration at all when ex-Gov. Harold Stassen was named, although a pretty woman in a glowing yellow dress made the speech. She was Mrs. C. E. Howard — Marge to her friends.

Speakers Booed
Gen. Douglas MacArthur's partisans, fewer in number but second to none in energy, were fifth and last on the scene. They paraded carrying giant photographs of MacArthur, and sang "Old Soldiers Never Die," and "Oklahoma," out of deference to Fred L. Coogan, the Oklahoma man who made the nominating speech.

It was the usual organized nonsense, a series of outpourings of healthy animal spirits, giant spasms of energy.

But there were sharp-edged overtones, too.

A second speech for Taft, delivered by Richard Neville of New York, almost duplicated the previous night's flare of ill-feeling, stirred by Sen. Everett M. Dirksen. Neville called for the party to repudiate "the leadership that has led us to defeat twice before."

That meant Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, an Eisenhower supporter. The Dewey-means-defeat theme is the counter to the Taft-can't-win-line that Eisenhower's campaigners have been using.

And more than one speaker was booed, despite chairman Joseph Martin's plea for fairness to all.

Kramlichs Sell Radio License

MENOMINEE—Sale of the controlling Kramlich interest in the Green Bay Broadcasting company, operating Radio Station WDUZ, Green Bay, and controlling the license permit for a new radio station projected for Menominee, to a group of publishers and radio station operators was announced yesterday.

The sale, said the purchasers, assures the early construction of the Menominee radio station and they predicted its operation by September 1. The Glickman building is the prospective studio site and the announcement said the antenna has been ordered.

The sale was announced at Chicago after a conference of the purchasers with Secretary John Reindl of the Menominee Chamber of Commerce in the Sherman Hotel by H. R. Murphy of Milwaukee, one of the purchasers, who said that the sale is subject to confirmation by the Federal Communications Commission, which controls radio station licensing.

The Purchasers
Murphy said that the purchasers met yesterday at Milwaukee with Irving S. Kramlich of Milwaukee and Clarence L. Kramlich of Appleton and their attorney, Charles Knowland of Oshkosh and completed the sale of the Kramlich's controlling interest in WDUZ and the license permit for the new Menominee station, both owed by the Green Bay Broadcasting Company.

The purchasers, said Murphy, are four and include himself.

They are:

1—Ben A. Laird of Green Bay, president of the Green Bay Broadcasting Company.

2—H. R. Murphy of Milwaukee, president of the North Shore Publishing Company, which publishes three North Shore Milwaukee weekly newspapers, the Shorewood Herald, Whitefish Bay Herald and Glendale Town Times. Murphy is also secretary-treasurer of the Medford, Wis., Broadcasting Company which operates Station WIGN, Medford, a Mutual network station, and which has asked the FCC for a license permit to operate a radio station serving Park Falls and Phillips, Wis.

Car Hits Ditch, Two Are Injured

Two passengers were injured when the auto driven by Earl Messersmith, 22, Wilson, Rte. 1, went out of control on county road 551, three miles south of U. S. 2 about 5:45 last night. Raymond Wery, 11, sustained a wrenched back and Ray Levichka, 14, both of Wilson, Rte. 17, had bruises on his hands and knees.

The accident occurred as Messersmith reached the crest of a hill and a truck driven by Harvey Arken came out of a private driveway. Messersmith swung toward the ditch to avoid hitting the truck.

The boys were treated by a Daggett physician and released. State police ticketed Messersmith for excessive speeding.

Average automobile drivers lose efficiency rapidly after about seven hours of driving.

Cancer Drive Exceeds Quota

The Delta County Cancer Fund drive of 1952 was a complete success, with a total of $4,069.85 subscribed, it has been announced by William E. Anderson, drive chairman.

The county quota was $3,300 and the fact that the quota was generously over-subscribed is a tribute to the corps of volunteer workers and the generosity of the residents and industries of the county, Anderson said.

Ray LaPorte was city chairman in Escanaba and Emily Sauvo was junior service committee chairman. John Nyland was Gladstone city chairman and Mrs. Douglas Mathison was co-chairman. Township chairmen included Harold Lund, Kipling; Robert Hawes, Ford River; David Phalen, in the eastern townships; Walter J. J. in mid-county townships; Les Maki, northern townships and John D. Krause, western townships.

All of the township and city chairmen were assisted by a large corps of volunteer solicitors.

New Rules Change Setup In Republican National Committee

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Republican convention names a new and enlarged national committee today, marking the end of equal representation of men and women on the party's governing body.

Election of the new group is one of the last jobs to be done by the GOP national convention, which yesterday wrote a new set of rules for the committee.

Opposed by some women delegates as discriminatory against their sex, the new rules were approved by a vote of 683 to 513.

Changes from the old regulations were designed to reward states that stay in the Republican ranks and to penalize those that don't get out a sizeable GOP vote.

They make the party's state chairman a full member of the national committee if his state has a Republican governor, or if it goes Republican in a presidential year. The chairman would lose national committee membership if his state went Democrat in a statewide election.

One immediate effect of this change is to give an extra committee member to 25 states that now have Republican governors, and to Hawaii, which has a Republican delegate in Congress.

And, since the state chairman in all 25 states is a man, the women complained that they would lose their equality on the committee, now composed of one man and one woman from each state and territory.

Another change may cut into the size of future delegations from southern states to the party's national convention.

It boosts from 1,000 to 2,000 the number of Republican votes that must be cast in a congress-

War Explosives Kill Children

ROME—(AP)—The Italian Society for the Prevention of Accidents estimates some 1,400 children aged 5 to 12 are killed each year by aerial bombs, hand grenades, artillery and mortar shells, and mines left over from the last war. Another 7,000 annually are injured.

The more than 58,000 post-war casualties among children since the Italian campaign ended in May, 1945, surpasses the total U. S. casualties in four wars—Revolution War (12,172); War of 1812 (6,765); Mexican War (16,399) and Spanish-American War (9,530).

Gas Conversion About Finished

City-wide conversion to the use of propane-air gas was about completed this week with only cleaning-up operations remaining in the changeover project.

About 2,400 homes and 169 business establishments have been adjusted to use the new gas since conversion was begun here June 25, about 16 days ago.

Sweeping-up operations including adjusting a few homes missed in the conversion schedule, checking of some faulty adjustments and schooling of local service men to handle maintenance of the system will continue until the conversion firm, Universal Gas Conversions, Inc., leaves Escanaba about July 31, according to Robert H. Bodoh, company president.

12 Adjusters Remain

A crew of 12 of the 53 adjusters who performed the conversion of appliances will remain here until all loose ends in the project have been tied, Bodoh said.

"All completed work has been inspected and it looks as though we will be able to leave a finished job about the end of the month," the official stated.

Some difficulty with pressure-regulating valves was experienced at the gas plant in the last days of conversion but it did not cause a set-back in the schedule, Bodoh reported.

The last section of the city to be converted was Section Five, the large area south of Ludington Street. Conversion was begun on the north side of the city.

"Best Conversion Job"

"This is the best conversion job we have ever put over," Bodoh said, adding that townpeople were very cooperative and local gas officials were extremely helpful.

"Consumers are finding less dissatisfaction with the new gas than they did at the outset of conversion and will become more content with it as they grow accustomed to propane-air gas," City Manager Art Aronson said in reporting on the completed conversion.

Slow Speed Causes Motorist To Slap Driver Of Tractor

Donald S. Burzynski, 27, of Marinette, was charged with assault and battery by Frank Shaver of Rapid River at 5 p. m. yesterday. Shaver had been driving his tractor along U. S. 2-41 through Rapid River when Burzynski stopped his car, got out, and proceeded to slap Shaver across the face. The slow speed of Shaver's tractor apparently irritated Burzynski, it was indicated.

Michigan State Police were called by Shaver and Burzynski was arraigned in Judge O. C. Estenson's court. Fine was suspended on payment of $4.30 costs.

Union Charge Of Conspiracy In Steel Strike Is Very Ironical

THE charge by the United Steelworkers union that the steel companies are engaged in a conspiracy against the union is ironical, indeed.

As Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel, pointed out in a statement issued yesterday, the steel companies are standing together in the current labor dispute because all of the companies were struck simultaneously by the monopoly power of the labor union and because the government itself compelled the companies to appear together before the Wage Stabilization Board. Further, the government seized all of the steel plants at one time (a seizure later declared to be illegal) and John R. Steelman, assistant to the President, summoned the six big steel companies jointly to the White House and personally supervised their joint negotiations with the union.

If there is an evil in the so-called conspiracy by the steel companies to stand together in this controversy, surely there is greater evil in the monopoly power of a single man, Philip Murray, president of the Steelworkers Union, to shut off the vital supply of steel throughout the nation at one sweep.

The steel strike, nearing the end of six weeks, has already cost the nation hundreds of millions of dollars. Even worse, it has caused the productive loss of great quantities of steel needed for our national defense program and for our civilian economy. Thousands of workers have been idled already by the strike and many more thousands will be idled soon because of lack of raw material.

The strike issue of prime importance is not one of wages but rather it is an issue of the union shop, whether all workers in the steel plants will be required to join the union as a condition of employment.

Warden Frisbie Is Fired At Jackson

JULIAN N. FRISBIE has been fired as warden of the Jackson prison, a move not only justified but compelled by the turn of events in the big state penitentiary. Frisbie was placed on probation after the costly April prison riot at Jackson. He should have been fired at that time but he was given another chance to straighten out the mess. That he has failed in this duty is evidenced by the new outbreak last weekend. Significantly, both riots were broken only after prison officials yielded to convict demands.

Further rioting at Jackson prison could not be avoided if Warden Frisbie remained in charge of the big institution. Whether the violent developments there were his fault or not, the very fact that he was the boss man in the proceedings that surrendered to the convict riot leaders makes it impossible for him to continue in charge of the prison. It could serve only to encourage additional riots and violence at the prison, with convicts there convinced that the way to get better treatment is to tear up the furniture and seize hostage guards.

Motorist Must Sacrifice Speed Or Himself

LOOKING for the cause of 326 traffic fatalities in the nation during the Fourth of July weekend, a new record for a three-day holiday on that date, speed must rank high.

Combined with overcrowded highways, a comparatively large number of inexperienced drivers out for a holiday, hot weather and short tempers, speed can and does rank high on the list of traffic killers.

This point is given weight by what happened the first day of the long weekend on two of the country's best-known speedways, the New Jersey Turnpike and the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

On the eight-month-old New Jersey super-highway, where the speed limit is 60 miles per hour, a heavy trailer-truck rammed into three automobiles parked at the side of the road. Five persons, including a three-year-old boy, were burned to death in the flaming wreckage.

Later in the day another crash on the turnpike cost two more lives. They raised to 25 the number of deaths on the 118-mile highway since it was opened last January.

But the speedways weren't yet through for the day. On the Pennsylvania Turnpike five persons were killed in a two-car crash.

The New Jersey Turnpike is a modern miracle of winding concrete—wide, sweeping curves, no cross traffic, no towns to go through, no nothing much except sit there and hold onto the wheel and zoom along at 60.

This sounds fine and it is, for a while. Then the whole thing gets to be a little monotonous. And that's where a lot of the turnpike trouble apparently comes from.

The senses lose some of their edge, lulled by the steady smooth pace and the motor's hum. The reactions seem to miss the frequent test of dealing with cross traffic, turns, starts and stops.

Also the driver is inclined to lose sight of the fact that he is traveling fast. So when an emergency does arise, when a car cuts sharply in front of him, or someone ahead brakes to a sudden stop, his senses often are not up to coping with the swiftness with which things happen, and accidents result.

At high speed such accidents can be bigger killers than ordinarily—five killed in the Pennsylvania crash, five dead in the New Jersey one.

By engineering standards, the turnpikes are marvels. But they don't, and they can't, take into full account human behavior. The relationship of man and his machine can be a satisfying and productive one up to a point, but the machine steadily becomes stronger and faster and there comes a point beyond which man cannot follow it and remain the master in control.

So some time ago about now, man, the American automobile driver, is going to have to make up his mind whether he's going to sacrifice speed, or sacrifice himself.

The Doctor Says... Early Diagnosis, Confinement Important in Control of Polio

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D. — Written for NEA Service

Last year I joined the ranks of those who have had a child stricken with polio. Probably no one who has not gone through this harrowing experience can fully realize the mental anguish which is involved.

Even so, the blind fear which afflicts so many parents during times when polio becomes comparatively common should be avoided, since it does no good.

Although polio can and does cause deaths and severe crippling, the chances that it will not be pretty good. It is now regarded as a disease in which only one in 100—in some cases even less—of those infected became paralyzed. In many of these, the illness is so slight that a diagnosis of polio is not even made.

Another bright side to the picture is that only half of those in whom the diagnosis can be made suffer any permanent paralysis, and even in many of those who do, the paralysis is of a minor nature, and recovery can go a long way.

But it is a terrible disease. What then can be done to prevent it?

Polio is now known to be caused by a virus, of which there are several known varieties or strains.

This virus is present in the discharges from the nose and throat, and in the intestinal waste of those who have the disease, and of others who are so slightly sick that a diagnosis of polio cannot even be made. These and other known facts bring polio into the class of contagious diseases, or diseases which are spread from person to person.

It is felt that close association with infected persons accounts for the great majority of cases, but since many of these do not have active signs of disease, prevention of the spread of the virus is still exceedingly difficult.

At present, the most important measures in the control of polio are to make early diagnosis of the disease and to hospitalize those who are affected.

KEEP FLIES FROM FOOD

In the presence of excessive polio in a community, children should be protected so far as possible against unnecessary contact with other than their usual associates. Keeping flies away from food also seems to be advisable.

With some exceptions, it does not seem to be of much value to close schools, nor to delay their opening.

Until methods of immunizing have been developed (and undevelopment of a preventive vaccine may not be far off), generally sensible methods are about all that can be used.

However, as pointed out in the beginning of this column, the changes of escaping the crippling effects of polio are good.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

CHICAGO—For a man who knew almost nothing about politics, Ike Eisenhower has done pretty well at Chicago.

Lounging in a dark red bathrobe and a pair of slippers, Eisenhower sat in his suite at the Hotel Blackstone getting reports from division commanders in battle. There was not the same tension, of course, and it's also doubtful that Eisenhower understood all the political jockeying of his campaign commanders as he would the feints of his division commanders.

But, in politics as in war, victory usually goes to the man with the best organization—plus a cause. And though Senator Taft has had 12 years of careful party organization behind him, together with some of the most devoted leaders in the GOP. Here are the factors which Eisenhower has had backing him:

1. A skilled chief of staff—What Gen. Omar Bradley was for the Normandy landing, Gov. Tom Dewey of New York has been for Ike's political battle. Though unpopular with many leaders, Dewey knows the political moves, has built up a smooth machine, and it really functioned at Chicago.

IKE GATHERS STEAM

2. A cause—It wasn't until Taft handed Eisenhower the "vote steal" slogan in Texas and Louisiana that Ike really began to gather steam. This gave him a chance to argue that the Republicans not go in for the corruption that they'd pinned on the Democrats. The argument carried weight.

3. A high-powered publicity campaign—No convention since that which nominated Wendell Willkie in 1940 has seen anything to equal Ike's ballooning. It was done by some experts from General Motors, Minneapolis and from Young and Rubicam in New York. There's been a lot of merely spontaneous Ike sentiment, too. Pretty girls boosting Ike have been everywhere, passing out buttons by the handful. Taft buttons were passed out parsimoniously, only one at a time.

4. Money—Though Taft seemed to have most of the cash at first, and the Eisenhower forces were slow in paying their hotel deposit, someone has really taken the rubber band off the Eisenhower bankroll recently. Taft claims that Wall Street opened up for Ike are probably correct. Winthrop Aldrich, head of the Chase Bank and a member of the Rockefeller family, is an old and faithful Dewey supporter.

5. Economic pressures—In every convention, whether Republican or Democratic, it's the deals and the last-minute pressures that swing big blocs of delegates. FDR got the nomination in 1932 by promising two cabinet posts to William Gibbs McAdoo for his friends and the vice presidency to John Nance Garner.

CAPABLE SWING-MAN

At Chicago today, the Michigan delegation was swung into line chiefly by General Motors and Ford. Four years ago, the head of the Michigan delegation, Arthur Summerfield, was strong for Taft. Even when Michigan Republicans held their convention this year, Summerfield still held out for Taft. But Summerfield is a General Motors dealer, in fact, is reputed to be the biggest Chevrolet dealer in the world. So, when General Motors notified Summerfield in no uncertain terms that he had better be for Eisenhower, it gave him cause for thought.

Simultaneously one of Henry Ford's executives sent word to Summerfield that if he wanted any money for the GOP in Michigan he had better get off the Taft bandwagon. So, at Chicago, swing-man Summerfield helped swing Michigan delegates to Ike.

Swing-man for Pennsylvania, Gov. John Fine, started out leaning toward neither Taft or Eisenhower. But the steel industry of Pennsylvania is the most potent in the state, and also happens to be for Eisenhower. His executives were persuasive. Also persuasive were some talks which Governor Dewey had with local political leaders in Pennsylvania and which they in turn had with Fine. They told him that with Ike on the ticket it made the difference between winning or losing their districts in November, an othe they wanted to win.

These were some of the moves by which Ike Eisenhower, the naive and none-too-happy politician, learned that when it comes to politics there's more than one way to skin a candidate.

CHICAGO MERRY-GO-ROUND

More has leaked out on the New York caucus at which Tom Dewey really cracked the whip. To keep his delegates in line on the question of changing the old 1912 rules on seating contested delegates Dewey urged: "It's all right to have a difference of opinion, but I'm a regular Republican and a great believer in party regularity. You can still be a Republican and disagree with me in this fight, but not a New York Republican." State Chairman Bill Pfeiffer echoed Dewey: "I also have a long memory and I won't forget those who desert us on this issue." New York's Sen. Irving Ives was milder. He said: "If we are going to fight corruption in the Democratic administration we have got to keep our own house clean." They won the day.

With the exception of one delegate, New York stuck with Dewey on the contested delegates issue. General MacArthur's cardinal mistake in his keynote speech was making it too long. Remarkable one delegate: "I guess his speech was all right, but I went to sleep." Gov. John Lodge of Connecticut made the best speech of the convention—less bombast and more appeal to reason. Guy Gabrielson did a good job of presiding. "All we Republicans do is quote Abraham Lincoln and all the Democrats do is run against Herbert Hoover."

Liquor men, naturally, blame all this on that old devil excise tax. An alcoholic drink is currently the most heavily taxed consumer item. The present tax is $10.50 per gallon. Out of every dollar you shell out for distilled spirits, 56 cents goes for federal, state and local taxes.

Actually, it only costs about $1.10 to make a gallon of whiskey. You pay somewhere around $4 for a fifth of a gallon. It's simply taxes, say the liquor men, that make the retail cost so high.

Whatever it is, it's reached the point where consumer resistance is being felt. Despite the raising of the excise tax on liquor, tax receipts have fallen this year. Receipts in January were $101,000,000, which is 52.3 per cent below the corresponding month of 1951. Receipts in April of this year are estimated to be the lowest in over two years.

This has hit the liquor manufacturers in their alcoholic cash registers. Distillers, in the first quarter of 1952, saw their profits decline 57.5 per cent from last year—the biggest drop of any industry from '51 to '52.

Least prohibitionists regard this as a victory, they should know it isn't. These figures just apply to distilled spirits—whiskey of various types. There is no noticeable decline of drunks on the street; they may have gotten that way on beer or wine, not whiskey, but they're just as soused.

What is actually happening is people are drinking differently. A trade magazine survey of America's drinking habits showed that, while whiskey and soda is still the most popular alcoholic drink, there are new ones coming up. And most of these are non-whiskey drinks.

You'll be hearing about the grasshopper and the screwdriver.

Soaring Liquor Prices Hike Wine Sales; Whiskey Tax Take Slumps

By RICHARD KLEINER

NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Riddle: How can spirits be higher and lower at the same time? Well, it's happening in the liquor business these days, where the tax-inspired high cost of distilled spirits has brought on a period of poor business and low profits among whiskey men.

Business is so bad, in fact, that the liquor industry is calling this era "prohibition by taxation." They exaggerate. Although the new excise tax, slapped on last November, has hurt the business, it hasn't made people stop drinking. This isn't prohibition, it's simply an age of alcoholic adjustment.

A lady in St. Paul gives a dinner party and serves cocktails, not highballs. A farmer in Iowa buys two bottles of wine instead of his usual fifth of whiskey. A New York businessman sends his big customer three bottles, not the customary case. Some college boys in Ohio pool their funds and find they can only afford a pint, not a fifth.

These isolated cases fit the nationwide pattern; since the excise tax went into effect, people have changed their drinking habits radically.

As hard liquor was hurt, wine has been helped. Men find they can get just as happy on two bottles of port for $2, which has about the same alcoholic content as one bottle of whiskey for $4. So they figure any old port in a storm, and switch to wine.

Result: shipments of California wine in March of this year were almost 10 per cent over the five-year average for that month. And, for the January-to-March period of 1952, they were 11.34 per cent over the five-year average for those same three months.

But some people don't want to switch to wine. They still like a nip of bourbon or scotch or rye. So they buy a pint at a time, instead of a bigger bottle.

Result: in March of this year, almost 40 per cent of bonded whiskey was put into pint bottles. Just a year ago, that percentage was only 2.3.

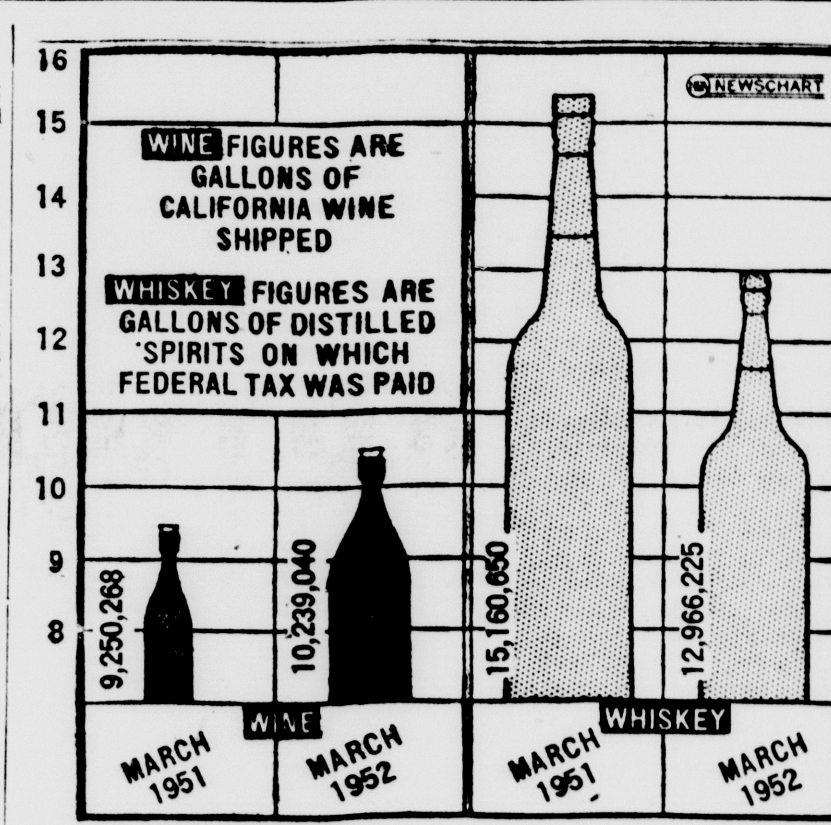

Add up all the wine-switchers and the pint-switchers and the one - bottle - at - a - time - instead - of two-switchers and here's the result:

Taxes were paid on 33,199,777 gallons of distilled spirits in the first quarter of 1952. That's 42.3 per cent below the same period of 1951. Of course, last year was an abnormally "high" one; there was much liquor scare buying. But you can't laugh off the fact that so far 1952 is a whopping 5.3 per cent under the normal year, 1949.

Liquor men, naturally, blame all this on that old devil excise tax. An alcoholic drink is currently the most heavily taxed consumer item. The present tax is $10.50 per gallon. Out of every dollar you shell out for distilled spirits, 56 cents goes for federal, state and local taxes.

Actually, it only costs about $1.10 to make a gallon of whiskey. You pay somewhere around $4 for a fifth of a gallon. It's simply taxes, say the liquor men, that make the retail cost so high.

Whatever it is, it's reached the point where consumer resistance is being felt. Despite the raising of the excise tax on liquor, tax receipts have fallen this year. Re-

Sources: Wine Institute and Licensed Beverage Industries, Inc.

Both are already popular in the west. The grasshopper is one-third green creme de menthe, one-third white creme de cacao and one-third cream. The screwdriver is simply a glass of orange juice with a jigger of vodka.

According to a representative package dealer, he's making the same number of sales. But people are either buying smaller amounts or cheaper brands or less-expensive beverages. Some customers who used to buy a fifth of Old Firehouse for $3.50, resented it when it went to $3.85; nowadays they still spend $3.50, but get a cheaper brand for that price.

Sales of mixed drinks at bars haven't been affected much. Bars, themselves, are generally buying quarts instead of fifths, thereby saving a few cents. Some find a few more beer drinkers and wine-and-soda drinkers than they used to serve, but mostly their elbow-benders are bending the same elbows.

It is drinking at home that's changed. It is here that the price boosts have been felt. It is here that highballs are higher than ever.

You'll be hearing about the grasshopper and the screwdriver.

Good Evening...

(Robert Ruark is substituting for Clint Dunathan who is on vacation.)

By ROBERT C. RUARK

CHICAGO—They stood up and shouted for about 15 minutes when the other old man came aboard—the other old man who was scorned once upon a time through no fault of his own. Herbert Hoover, only living ex-President of the United States, sounded the real keynote of the Republican conclave here.

This was Mister Republican. Robert Taft isn't. Douglas MacArthur isn't. Ike Eisenhower isn't. The shaggy old man with a petulant baby's jowly face is Mister Republican, in all the senses that Republican used to mean. The others are late come to the feast—and you can tell this by the way they applauded the old man, Hoover, when they didn't go mad for Douglas MacArthur. And you mustn't forget that both Doug and Hoover are for Bob Taft.

It is a sort of shame that we cannot shear a few years off Hoover, twist back the clock a tiny bit, and once more present an honest, quiet, and dignified thinking man for President. We wasted Hoover in the early years—we have been wasting his talents since Roosevelt made a circus of the top job.

HOOVER COMMANDS RESPECT

In looking back we remember that Tom Dewey failed to inspire, and got his ears pinned by a noisy clerk who is our current leader. There have been too many theatrics about MacArthur to make him believable—the rhetoric often gets in front of the man. All of 'em from Taft and back again seem to have a criticizable angle.

Hoover's quiet remark that "You will need to change administrations to do that," his "12 years of lost statesmanship," all his appraisals suddenly make sense, as a man who balances a budget makes sense. He has seemed to appraise us rather than exhort us, and it seems to me we stand more in need of appraisal than of exhortation.

What Mister Herbert Hoover said, quietly, is that integrity must be restored to a frustrated people—that they must give back dignity and integrity and pride to the people inside the United States, before we try to remake the world. Hoover wants to free us before we take on the others, much as Mister Lincoln wished to free the local slaves before he resettled Uganda.

I have been looking at this convention without enthusiasm until now. It is a noisy bustling nothing, full of cheap gestures and loud actors. And all of a sudden I find a man I can be proud of in what can otherwise best be construed as a handful of frogs. As a man who was aiming to quit the convention, out of sheer disgust at the aimless activity, Mr. Hoover's presence makes me believe that the whole noisy mess might possibly be worth sweating out.

This may be cornball, but here is what I think Mr. Hoover said — You must pay your bills. You must not tax yourself to a point where you can't pay your bills. You must not get yourself mixed up in a whole lot of foreign quarrels that you cannot win and will never understand before you have placed yourself in a position to keep the local fences mended.

COMMON HOOSIER SENSE

That seems to be called isolationism, by some, and is against the high and fancy phrases we have heard for many a dreary year. But it is old, common, Hoosier sense—it is the final desperate effort of a man to restore common Hoosier sense to a nation that has been living in a kind of international Greenwich Village for too many years.

Even Mr. Hoover's fast phrasing of foreign policy, warwise, makes sense to a simple and possibly ignorant man like me. He just says that he wants us to be able to strike so hard, and so vindictively, back at an aggressor, that nobody will make a pass at us in the first place. He is even so practical that he wants our Allies to contribute a tiny touch to their own defense. I do not wish to burble, really. I just wish we could rerun Herbert Hoover for President, because I am certain sure we could win with him and fetch a little sanity back home.

Power With Words

By Dr. C. E. Funk

"WE HOPE FOR THE BEST!" We may hope for the best, but do we anticipate it? Do we expect it? Or just wish of these words should we use?

Hope is the most wishy-washy of the three. There is nothing of confidence implied by it. In fact, one rather looks for a but to follow it. "We hope for the best, but he's a very sick man." "I hope Johnny has been a good boy, but..." "I hope I'll make a billion, but..." That is, hope expresses a desire, something that is looked forward to as pleasurable, though one entertains no certainty that the hope will be fulfilled.

Anticipate (an-TISS-uh-PATE), as used in this connection, is about halfway between hope and expect. Generally one anticipates a coming pleasure, or a pleasure that is promised, though one may also anticipate a trouble or something unpleasant. From its Latin source (ante, before, capio, take), its meaning here is to take beforehand in one's mind, to look forward to.

That is, anticipate is based on promise or something that will probably happen. We anticipate the visit of a friend, and we make plans for his entertainment. We anticipate a trip to Florida, where we intend to spend the coming summer, and we look forward to a succession of balmy days. Or, it may be, we anticipate trouble from the owner of the car whose fender we scraped in the parking lot this morning.

But expect (ex-PECT) is based on certainty or something that is almost sure to happen. From Latin expecto, to look out for, it means to await. And there is confidence in the awaiting and good reason for it. We expect our friend to arrive on a certain train, for that is the train he said he would take. We expect John to marry Joan, because they are engaged. We expect the baby's speedy recovery, because penicillin invariably acts quickly in such ailments.

Expect, of course, is the strongest of the three words.

London's Atom-Proof Shelters Are Wide Open, But (Sh!) Secret

By FERN RICH
NEA Special Correspondent
LONDON—(NEA)—The second city of London, which has been growing beneath England's capital for the past year and a half, is supposed to be a big secret.

But like most secrets, nearly everyone knows about this one. The catch is that no official will say "yes," "no," or even "maybe."

What actually seems to be going on is the building of an atom-proof citadel, 45 feet beneath London streets. Seven shafts have been excavated, all of which will be linked by tunnels and possibly by electric trains.

Supposedly there are thousands of rooms being constructed, complete with power generators, food storage facilities, telephones and all the equipment necessary to permit the various ministries and civil servants to carry on government in case of atomic attack.

Londoners are now well aware of the citadel used by Prime Minister Churchill and government leaders during the Battle of Britain. It accommodated 2000 people and was built of steel and concrete.

It was called the Rotunda and still exists and has been maintained. In another part of London about three miles from Whitehall, is a World War II deep air raid shelter which has also been maintained and which some guess will be included in the underground network.

Not far from Parliament Square and Big Ben, some of the most impressive construction work is going on behind thick walls at least 10 feet high. Doors in the wall are equipped with buzzers and a postage stamp size peephole. Police signs request that roads be kept clear due to "excavating work in progress."

I buzzed for the foreman and a burly, kindly-faced giant opened the door, came out on the sidewalk and quickly closed the door behind him. I told him I wanted to know about the digging and asked for the foreman. He was very polite and said he would fetch him.

Still standing on the sidewalk outside the high wall, I tried looking inconspicuously while passersby turned to stare. The foreman, a gruff, cheerful Irishman with a rich brogue, answered my questions.

"I'm not allowed to show you the place, miss," he said. "I'm sorry."

"But it is an atomic shelter?"

"This one," he said, being careful not to answer my question directly, "is a very important site. It leads right into Buckingham Palace and Westminster Abbey. And it's a beautiful job!"

"How many workmen are there at this shaft?"

"I've got only 80 now but there were more in the beginning."

"When did you start work?"

"Last June."

"When will you finish?"

"We hope to be through by next month."

"Then what?"

"Well, then I hear talk of their putting the Colonial Office on top of this."

The old Colonial Office was several blocks away and in very shabby condition.

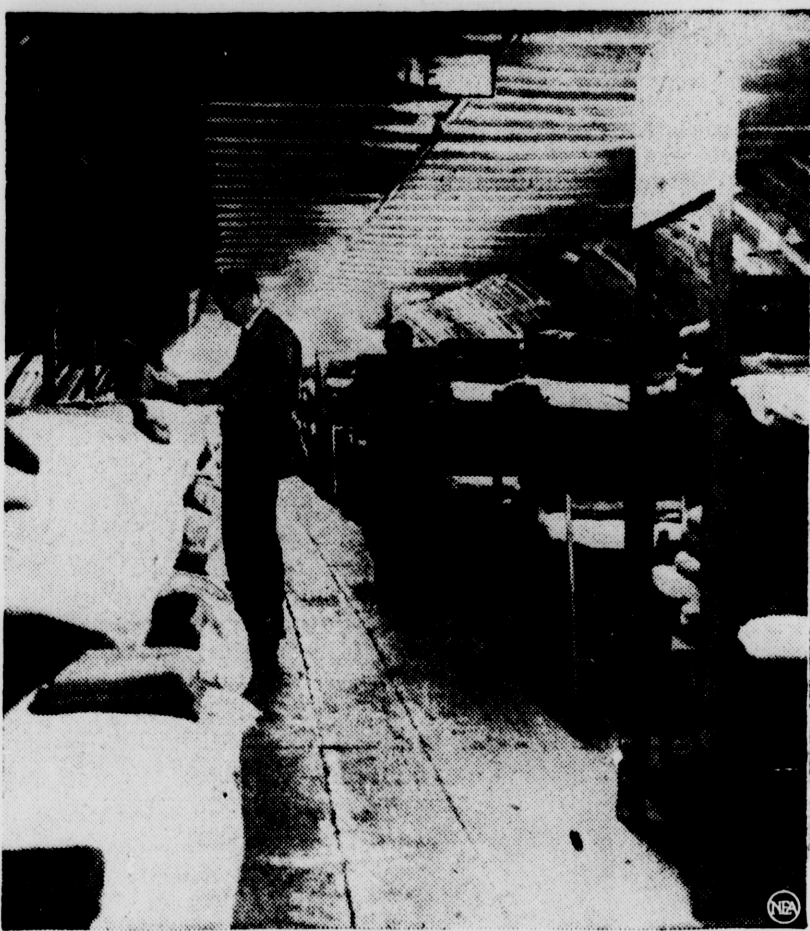

"Of course, if you steel boys stay on strike," he continued, "that plan will have to be scrapped."

"You can't keep people from talking," the foreman explained. "It isn't much of a secret, you know. As a matter of fact, there's another of these holes over there (he pointed toward Horseferry Road near Victoria Street) which hasn't got a big solid fence around like this one. You can stand there and see just what the workmen are doing."

At the other "secret" shaft, just as the foreman had said, was the usual group of sidewalk superintendents watching the excavating of pits, one of which was filled with water which kept coming up from below.

"Room enough down there for the whole British Army, I'd bet," said one man to another.

"Frightening, isn't it?" a striped

LONDON UNDERGROUND: Shelter beneath the city, like this World War II version near Clapham South Station, could be the reason for all those holes in the ground they're digging in London these days. But officials won't talk about it.

Rapid River

Mr. and Mrs. Stone Anderson left Monday morning, July 7, for a two weeks' vacation. They are motoring to Yellowstone Park, Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, and Glacier National Park. Their daughter, Mrs. Cyril E. Palen of Milwaukee, Wis., and Mrs. Al Hoffmeister, also of Milwaukee.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay O. Jensen, Bingham Canyon, Utah, left Thursday after visiting the past week at the Buchanan home.

Ike Buchanan, Elgin, Ill., returned to his home Wednesday after spending the week at the Buchanan home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Nelson, and children, Detroit, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Nelson.

The Historical Society committee is anxious to complete their mailing list of names and addresses of old residents of Rapid River. Anyone having such is asked to contact Mrs. Lloyd Stenlund or Walter Peters by the end of the week. The picnic honoring Rapid River will be held Sunday, July 27, at the Rapid River Falls park. Mrs. Ned Short has been appointed publicity chairman and Art Shafer has been put in charge of properties.

School Election
There will be a school election Monday, July 14. Mrs. Allan Young, Mrs. Blanche Tienert and Hans Lorenson are serving as election clerks. Albert Wickham has filed his petition to serve on the school board of the Rapid River Rural Agricultural School.

Helen Jean Thivierge, Chicago, and Mrs. Art Thivierge, Gladstone, spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ned Short.

There were 177,790 saloons, 7090 breweries, and 236 distilleries in the United States before the Prohibition era.

trousered one commented, then looked up at the bright blue sky into the warm sunshine, shuddered and walked away.

As the foreman said, London's mysterious holes - in - the ground aren't much of a secret. Except for the fact that the Ministry of Defense says there aren't any.

New Job Opportunities Opened Up On Farms
WASHINGTON — (AP) — More Americans had jobs in June than in any previous June on record—63,572,000.

The Census Bureau, reporting this yesterday, said the figure was only 60,000 below the all-time record set in August, 1951.

The Bureau said the employment picture was much brighter, with 769,000 more job openings last month than for June a year ago. Most of the new job opportunities were on farms.

Man Who Advertised For $10,000 Wife Marries For Love

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Edward Burgdorf, 35, who a month ago was seeking a wife with $10,000 has married—"a girl as broke as I am."

The 220-pound railroad foreman eloped to Piggott, Ark., Saturday with Miss Betty McMahon, 21. Both are from St. Louis.

Burgdorf explained that he had gone with Betty before, but they had broken off.

Bumper Harvest Due This Year

By KARL R. BAUMAN
WASHINGTON—(AP)—A bumper harvest, featuring a corn crop exceeded only once, is forecast for this year.

In its first estimate of the year, the agricultural department yesterday forecast corn production of 3,365,089,000 bushels, only a little short of the government's goal of 3,375,000,000 bushels.

Corn is the No. 1 factor in assuring high level production of meats, dairy and poultry products.

Only in 1942, the banner production year, was more corn produced than is forecast for 1952. Last year production was 2,941,423,000 bushels and the ten-year (1941-50) average is 3,011,652,000 bushels.

A wheat crop of 1,249,019,000 bushels is in prospect. In only two previous years—1947 and 1948—has more been produced.

The index for measuring all crops produced is indicated at about 132 per cent of the 1923-32 average. This is higher than in any past year except 1948 when it reached 135.4 per cent.

A larger potato acreage than last year and nearly the same yield per acre will provide a slightly larger supply, although still nearly a fifth below average. A larger sweet potato crop also is in prospect.

Showers Take Heavy Death Toll In Japan

TOKYO — (AP) — The fiercest rainstorms in 40 years lashed South-Central Japan last night and today, taking a heavy toll in life and property.

Kyodo news agency reported 28 killed, 11 missing and 50 injured in storms in the Osaka-Kobe area of Honshu, Japan's main island.

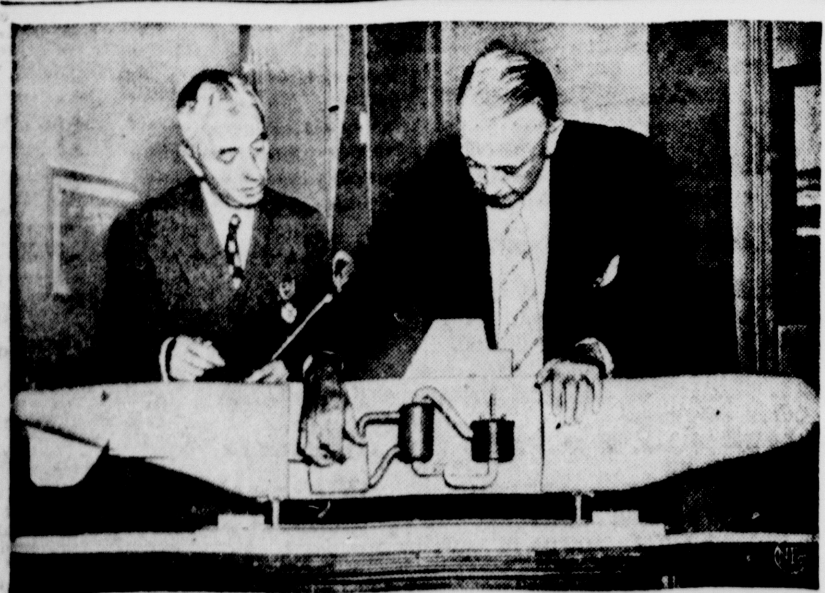

More than 100 landslides were reported. Kyodo said property damage included 108 houses destroyed and 72,600 houses and more than 22,000 acres of farmland flooded.

Heaviest loss of life was reported in the Hiroshima area, where 12 persons were killed.

Hot Weather Forces Nudists To Dress

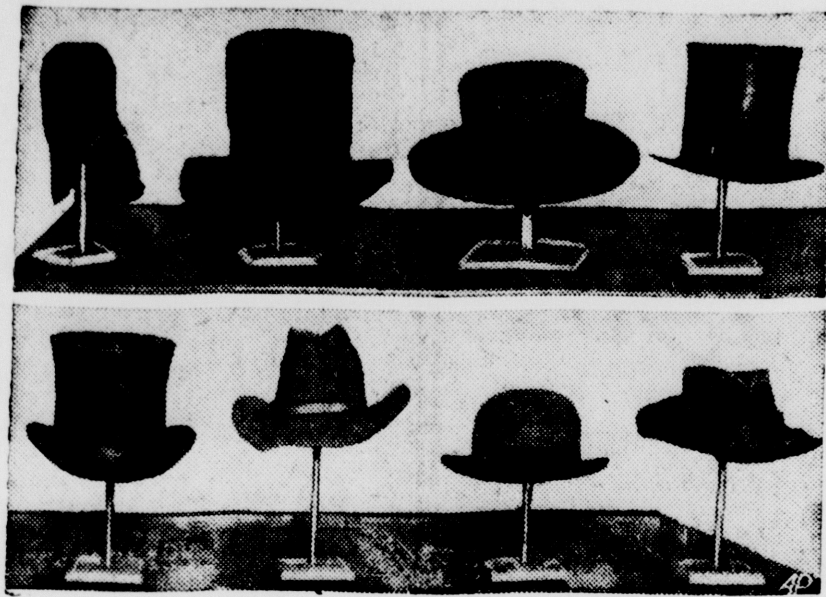

VANCOUVER, B. C. — (AP) — Nudists who returned this week from a sunbathing conference held at Philomath, Ore., complained that it was so hot they had to put their clothes on.

Ray Connert, head of a Vancouver club, said that after several days of a blistering sun most of the nudists were forced to wear at least shirts.

"LOOK IT OVER SIR" — Secretary of the Navy Dan A. Kimball, right, looks over a four-and-a-half-foot model of his department's latest weapon, an atom-powered submarine, the Nautilus, able to travel thousands of miles on a few pounds of uranium fuel. The model was displayed at the Pentagon, where Naval Capt. Hyman George Rickover, left, was awarded a gold star for his part in development of the submarine. According to Rickover's model, the pug-nosed vessel carries a furnace in which uranium reacts, produces heat to make steam and revolve turbines operating two propellers. A heavy shield will protect the crew from radioactivity.

Here Are History's Hats In The Ring

Ike Defeats Taft On First Ballot At Chicago Rally

delegate contests—in which the words "steal," "thief," and even stronger were commonplace—had their effect on many delegates, if not on the GOP national committee.

This was evidenced at the opening of the convention—last Monday.

Taft came to Chicago confident and riding high. Through months of long, hard campaigning—mile after mile up and down and across the country—he was far out in front of Eisenhower in pledged delegates.

Fame Comes Fast But on the opening day, the Eisenhower forces—with support from backers of candidates Earl Warren and Harold Stassen—whipped the Taft men 658 to 548 in a test vote on a rule regarding voting by contested Taft delegates from the south.

It was a licking from which Taft never recovered. Out of that breach in his strategic lines trickled not only delegates from Louisiana, Texas and Georgia he had counted on; it cost him, too, many votes among uncommitted delegates who concluded from this initial muscle feeling that Ike would come home the winner.

For Eisenhower, the GOP's tap to its leadership is another big moment of a packed decade in the life of a one-time Kansas farm boy, now reached 61.

Little more than 10 years ago, when as the march of World War II was sweeping toward the United States, "Ike" was an army lieutenant colonel, unknown nationally.

The swift years since have seen him direct the Allied drive that defeated Germany and Italy, head Columbia University, and finally command the armies being built in partnership with European Allies to defend against the threat of Communist aggression.

Dream Shattered He gave up that command and returned home only last June for a fast-moving campaign that finally overtook Taft.

For Taft, the defeat is a bitter end to his third real try for the nomination.

Now 62, he has said he would not try again—and so with this decision here his dream of following his father, President William Howard Taft, to the White House is destroyed.

"Bob" Taft was already a power in the Senate when Eisenhower was just one of many younger officers in the army.

Taft's name went as a favorite son before the 1936 GOP convention.

He sought the nomination in 1940, and was licked to the roaring calls of "We want Wilkie."

In 1944, he stepped aside so another Ohioan could have his chance. Bricker was beaten by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York but took second place on the ticket.

The GOP went down to defeat.

Widow Evicted At Lapeer Farm Without A Fight

mauled by Mrs. Stevens' angry neighbors in an earlier eviction attempt.

Neighbors Barred The raiding party, in a 20-car convoy, reached the widow's 80-acre farm in northern Lapeer county at 6:55 a. m. apparently the farmers, battlers in a 17-year-old insurance fight, were caught by surprise.

The fact that the raid was to be held today was no secret. But its hour was. When the farmers began trying to assemble at the scene of the farm at about 5 a. m., they found state police barring the way.

Mrs. Stevens, 60-year-old mother of nine children, lost title to the farm four years ago when she refused to pay a $172 assessment due in the failure of the Lapeer Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Association.

Bought For $500 Mrs. Grace White, Lapeer attorney, bought the property at a sheriff's auction for $500 and has demanded the widow's eviction.

Mrs. Stevens, in turn, along with the 50-odd members of the farmers' committee battling the assessment in the case, has claimed she never signed papers to become a member of the association.

Last June 2, Sheriff Gregory and Deputy Ron Reedy attempted to evict the widow and were mauled off the property by the neighbors.

He warned at the time that he would come back with state police and a reinforced deputy staff and take the farm by force, if necessary.

When he arrived with his special deputies, state police and some 20 newsmen in the long, dusty convoy, the sheriff found the farm locked and strangely silent.

Door Kicked In While a bevy of photographers flashed pictures, the 200-pound sheriff threw his bulk against the front door of the old farmhouse and finally kicked in the door, shattering its window.

Inside, while newsmen tramped around him, the sheriff found Mrs. Stevens sitting resolutely in a living room rocking chair with her 30-year-old son, Frank Stevens, and neighbor standing beside her.

"Mrs. Stevens," said the sheriff, "I'm here to evict you. You will have to leave this farm in accordance with law."

When the other farmer in the room, Howard Jarvis, stood in his way, the sheriff abruptly said, "get out of here!"

Jarvis left hurriedly through the front door.

Still refusing to rise from her chair, Mrs. Stevens said, "you leave this house. This is my home. I want my things left here. This is my country and I am an American and you aren't."

The sheriff replied, "you will have to leave, so this is my last offer."

Furniture Moved Out While he was saying that, his aides already were removing the modest belongings of the widow out the front door and onto a truck which had been driven onto the front lawn. When the crew started to remove the large davenport, Mrs. Stevens made a grab at it and attempted to hold on. The deputies gently took her hand away and proceeded with the task.

Stevens protested then that the sheriff should provide storage for her goods. The sheriff answered that by law he was not responsible for that and unless a storage space was provided by the widow the furniture "will be out there in a field across the road." At this point, the son said he'd try to arrange a storage place. He spoke bitterly with newsmen:

"We tried to come this morning to help my mother and we couldn't get through. I had to slip through the fields like a criminal to come and stand by my own mother's side."

Stevens owns a neighboring farm.

Brothers Hold Fort This was the latest chapter in the bitter fight that followed the failure in 1935 of the insurance association. Mrs. White, besides increasing the title to the Stevens farm, also bought for $13,500 the title to the 240-acre farm owned by the Ziegenhardt brothers—Paul and Chris. In March, 1950, a former sheriff evicted the Ziegenhardt brothers, only to have them move back the same night and oust the new tenants.

Since then, the farm has gained fame as "Fort Ziegenhardt." On its front lawn stand a big sandbag fort—its walls large signs stating the farmers' case against the association.

Mrs. Stevens was bitter about the "y morning raiders' strategy in throwing up a road block to keep any carloads of sympathizers from coming to her aid.

"There are a lot of people who would have come here this morning if they could, but they couldn't get by the state police," she said. "I handled off trek two miles across the countryside to the Stevens farm and stood silently by as the eviction went on."

New Tenant Arrives Richard Newman, 26, a Flint fireman and a World War II veteran, was disclosed to be the new tenant of the Stevens farm. He was on hand with a truckload of his property.

furniture, which he planned to put into the farmhouse as soon as the Stevens furniture was outside.

"I don't want any trouble and I sure hope there isn't any, but if there is I'll take care of it," he said grimly as he unpacked.

Newman said he felt renting the farm on a 15-year-lease from Mrs. White was "a chance to better myself." He said he also had taken a lease on the adjoining Ziegenhardt property. He gave no indication of any plans to move onto that property.

Down the Fairway

Escanaba Highland will be a busy place tomorrow afternoon and evening when representatives of many of the 22 clubs in the Upper Peninsula Golf association visit for a round of golf and a business meeting to plan the 38th annual tourney here August 7, 8 and 9.

Bertel M. Stade, secretary of the association, reports that nearly all membership dues have been received, and it appears assured that the size of the entry will rival the hey-day of UPGA meets in the pre-World War II years.

The tournament is being given plenty of publicity throughout the Upper Peninsula. All clubs appear to be particularly active this summer. Sportswise at least, the U. P. is just about back to normal for the first time since the worldwide fracas called the cream of U. P. youth to such beachheads as Normandy, Leyte, Okinawa et cetera.

Pre-tournament releases were mailed this week to the six other dailies in the Upper Peninsula, namely those in Sault Ste. Marie, Menominee, Marquette, Iron Mountain, Houghton and Ironwood and to two Wisconsin dailies in the hinterland, Ashland and Marinette. Stories also were sent to 10 weekly newspapers in the U. P.

So, you can be sure of the fact that everybody in the Upper Peninsula, Northern Wisconsin and the Canadian Soo will know the UPGA meet is being held in Escanaba August 7, 8 and 9.

Divots retrieved at the first tee: Remember when Billy Rajala was whisking baskets in for Gladstone High just a few years ago? And then he proved to be a red-hot golfer as well as capturing the Gladstone Golf club championship. Well—Billy is now located in Minneapolis. But he came home for a short vacation over the Fourth of July and equalled his own course record of 33. Rajala learned his golf as a Gladstone caddy and he also had some able coaching from Eldon "Cappy" Kell, for whom he also starred in basketball.

The Gladstone course is in its best condition in years. And last night's rain didn't hurt a bit. Those fairways and greens flanking the beautiful Days river that winds its way through the course are like velvet. Although it's off the beaten track, the Gladstone course is getting a heavy play from tourists this season. Perhaps the heaviest it has ever had. One tourist commented: "Boy, if I had this beautiful, natural layout near Milwaukee or Chicago, I'd make $1,000 a day."

Gladstone will hold a women's invitational golf tournament Thursday, July 31. The Escanaba Golf club will sponsor the Upper Peninsula women's invitational Wednesday, July 16. Yoo, hoo! Calling all male golfers—Stay away from the respective courses on those respective days. The sign is out: "No men allowed!"

Playing Manistique's Indian Lake course, Everett Cookson and Fred Cayia tied at the end of nine holes in last week's twilight play. They decided to go another nine rather than play "sudden death." So what happens? After nine more holes, they're still tied at an even 100 each. They called it a day after that and hied their way to the clubhouse for dinner. Enough is enough, they said, and sometimes too much!

Bud Malloy, one of Indian Lake's top golfers and a threat in the U. P. here, was low for the evening with 39. Ferd Gorschke shot nine straight bogeys. That's bad for him. Someone said he probably was worrying about the Manistique municipal band concert he had to conduct that evening.

The only golf "poker hands" registered for the evening were turned in by Pete Stanness, with five sevens and two fours, and Bill Phillips, with three eights, three fives and two sevens. The lone birdie was turned in by veteran golfer Ben Gero with a three on the par four second. Incidentally, Malloy says the Manistique greens are "now in the best shape of any greens in the U. P." He says the club's new spiking machine is responsible. A spiking machine keeps a green from hardening under constant traffic. It provides for proper irrigation and air getting into the turf and enables a green to keep its softness and hold a pitch. It punches small holes and permits moisture to reach below the grass roots.

Eddie Ernst's youngster class continues to go over with a bang at the Escanaba Golf club. Escanaba has produced many U. P. men champions in the past, and if this keeps up it will have both girls and boys of championship caliber in the not-too-distant future.

Handsome Ed Kozel, one of the Escanaba club's most active golfers this season, had his eyes opened wide when he teed off with Fred Pollak Tuesday evening in twilight play. Pollak, with everything really under control, started out birdie-birdie-birdie. That's 4-3-2 against a par of 5-4-3. But then, as Pollak put it, the roof fell in and the doggone double bogeys started dropping. "I finished with 41 but with that start I should have stayed under par," he said.—J. G. W.

State Hunting Seasons Outlined (Continued from Page One)

Oct. 20 and end Nov. 19. Bag limits will be five a day, 10 in possession and 25 for the season.

Shooting Starts Oct. 1 In the Upper Peninsula, prairie chicken and sharp-tailed grouse will be legal game from Oct. 1 through Nov. 10. Bag limits will be five a day, 10 in possession and 25 for the season.

The Lower Peninsula season will extend from Oct. 1 through Oct. 22. Only Antrim, Crawford, Kalkaska, Missaukee and Roscommon counties will be open to shooting.

Bag limits will be three a day, six in possession and 25 for the season.

The season for cottontail and snowshoe rabbits will open Oct. 1 and run until March 1 in the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula. Beaver Island will be closed to rabbit shooting.

The season in the southern Lower Peninsula will open Oct. 20 and close Jan. 31. Limits will be five a day, 10 in possession and 50 for the season.

Money In Circulation Shows Sharp Decline WASHINGTON — (AP) — If you weren't short of cash this week, you weren't alone. The government reports money in circulation declined 32 million dollars during the seven day period ending July 9.

The Federal Reserve Board reported yesterday the drop was due to cash flowing back into banks after the July 4 week-end. Still in circulation: $29,148,000,000.

Wall Street BY RADER WINGET NEW YORK — (AP) — Highly specialized buying today put the Stock Market slightly ahead although trading was at a standstill much of the time.

The spread in prices went from around a point lower to between 1 and 2 points higher with plus signs predominating.

The pace of trading was at a rate of less than a million shares a day. That compares with 1,010,000 shares traded yesterday.

The crucial test in Chicago at the Republican convention meant more to those in Wall Street than trading today.

Among major groups, steels were higher along with motors, railroads, oils, and some radio-television issues and chemicals.

E. R. Squibb was up slightly and Mathieson was steady on the announcement that Mathieson proposes to acquire Squibb for an exchange of three shares for five of Squibb.

Grayson-Robinson steels traded one block of 29,900 shares off 1/4 at 15. Higher stocks included Shell Oil, Kern county land, Northern Pacific, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Texas Co., Philco Radio, and Hayden Chemical.

The market yesterday was slightly lower and quiet, which has been the general trend all week.

Republicans Set Up Platform To Oust Democrats

up for a vote. It carried by acclamation. Something like a sigh went up throughout the convention hall.

Such accord was a relief to many party leaders who had feared a platform battle would widen party wounds already opened by the bitterly-partisan campaign for presidential nomination.

The civil rights plank promises "federal legislation to further just and equitable treatment in the area of discriminatory employment practices." But it adds: "federal action should not duplicate state efforts to end such practices."

Pledged To Cut Taxes Millikin's voice rang out as he read the platform to the convention. He hit the Democratic administration for "corruption in high places" and "examples of dishonesty and dishonor."

He read out: "We charge that they have plunged us into war in Korea without the consent of our citizens through their authorized representatives in the Congress, and have carried on that war without will to victory."

After castigating the foreign policies of the Democratic administrations, the platform pledged a buildup of air power and military might to match Communist Russia.

"We shall review our entire preparedness program and we shall strip it clean of waste, lack of coordination, inertia, and conflict between the services," the platform said.

For business it promised to "remove tax abuses and injurious price and wage controls."

"Our goal is a balanced budget, a reduced national debt, an economical administration and a cut in taxes," it said and then urged voters to kick out Democrats.

"If this administration is left in power," it said, "it will further cheapen the dollar, rob the wage earner, impoverish the farmer and reduce the true value of the savings, pensions, insurance and investments of millions of our people."

Farmers were promised that Republicans would remove "partisan political dictation" from farm programs. They were pledged "full parity prices for all farm products in the market place."

U. S. Ranks Fifth NEW YORK — (AP) — The United States held its place as fifth largest builder of ships with a total of 105 vessels on the ways, totaling 1,439,500 gross tons, says the Shipbuilders Council of America. This is 9.1 per cent of the world total.

Watson Vacation Bible School Program Sunday

The closing exercises of the Daily Vacation Bible School of the Watson Bible Chapel will be held Sunday evening, July 13, at 7:30 p. m. The school has been studying the "Heavenly Sunshine Line". The boys and girls have as their call to worship, Psalm 27:1. They have learned several new choruses and two verses of "Precious Jewels" besides memory work for every day. Several of the juniors and intermediates have done extra work for extra credit.

The program Sunday evening will include memory work by the beginners: Sheila and Linda Kay Ahti, Ingrid Bruce, Catherine Erickson, John and Denise Girven, Janice Johnson, Steven Johnson, Catherine and Carol Manninen, and Audrey Sanville. The primary children will tell about the stories they have heard. They are Sandra Ahti, Ilene Heikkinen, Kenneth Heikkinen, Ross Nelson, Michael Sanville, and Bonnie Lou Usher. Some of the choruses learned by the school were correlated with the Bible stories and will be sung in connection. These are: "Only a Boy Named David", "Shadrach, Meshach and Abednego", and "Zachariah Was a Wee Little Man."

Memory work will also be recited by the juniors, who are as follows: Marilyn Ahti, Joan Bruce, Catherine, Errol and Howard Dorr, Carolyn and Kenneth Kelloniemi, Jerome Johnson, Tommy Lang, and Robert and Ronald Sanville. Jerome Johnson will read the Scripture for the evening. The five intermediates, Irene Ahti, Mary Bruce, Dale Jensen, Jeanne Kelloniemi, and Anita Manninen will take part in a Bible drill. The two groups will sing a theme chorus they have learned in correlation with their first week's homework, which was the making of felt penants. The second week they made wooden napkin holders and plaques from logs.

Special accordion music will be provided by Carolyn and Jeanne Kelloniemi. Diplomas will be presented to all in attendance at the Bible School.

Merceda Murphy Bride Tomorrow In Church Rites

Brides of Saturday, July 12, will include Miss Merceda Elizabeth Murphy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Kevill Murphy, 320 S. 14th St., who will exchange vows with Donald Joseph Druding of Gladstone in a ceremony at 10 a. m. tomorrow at St. Patrick's Church.

Miss Murphy's attendants will be Miss Dolores Laviolette, maid of honor, and Miss Isabella Ingledew of Peterborough, England, her future sister-in-law, who will be bridesmaid. Gary Druding will be his brother's best man. Ushering will be William Druding, another brother of the bridegroom, and Sgt. Norbert C. Murphy, a brother of the bride, who arrived last night from Nellis AFB, Las Vegas.

The wedding breakfast for immediate family members will be served at the House of Ludington.

The rehearsal dinner this evening will be at the bride's family home.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Allen J. Hynes, 802 S. 17th St., welcomed their first son today. Allen Joseph Jr. who arrived at 1:45 a. m. at the family home. The baby weighed 9 pounds at birth. Allen Joseph has two sisters, Mary Beth and Shireen. His mother is the former Mae Champion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Champion.

A daughter, Roberta Lee, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Stephen A. Goloback, 216½ N. 11th St., July 9 at St. Francis Hospital. The baby weighed 7 pounds and 8 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert E. Tattrow, Garden, are the parents of a daughter, Kathryn Ann, who weighed 8 pounds and 2 ounces at birth July 9 at St. Francis Hospital.

Today's Recipes

Pecan Waldorf Salad

Ingredients: 1 large red-skinned apple, 1 stalk celery, 4 teaspoons olive oil, 2 teaspoons red wine vinegar, ¼ teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon (scant) salt, 1/16 teaspoon paprika, salad greens, 8 pecan halves.

Method: Wash and dry apple, leaving skin on. Cut into eighths; cut away core. Slice in thin fan-shaped pieces into mixing bowl. Dice celery stalk (without leaves) and add. Push apple and celery to side of bowl and on other side put olive oil, vinegar, sugar, salt, and paprika; stir dressing well with spoon before mixing with apple and celery. Arrange salad greens in two individual salad bowls and top with apple and dressing mixture and broken pecan halves. Serve at once. Makes 2 servings.

Use a wooden potato masher with which to crush crumbs; the crushed crumbs make good toppings for casseroles.

AS WE LIVE

Husband Turns Tables: Wife Should Stick It Out

By Elizabeth B. Hurlock, Ph.D.
No love that is one-sided can ever be truly satisfactory. When a husband loves his wife more than she loves him, sooner or later his love for her will cool or die. That is what is happening to the young wife who wrote:

(Q) "I am 22 years old and have been married for four years. When I married, I thought I loved my husband but apparently I didn't because I dated other boys while he was in the service. He's out now and has forgiven me. Now, suddenly, I find I'm very much in love with him. Recently, he told me he didn't love me any more and wanted to split up. I begged him not to and he agreed because he felt sorry for me. But I hardly see him any more. He doesn't come home most nights. Am I doing any justice to either of us by staying together?"

(A) You are being fair to both of you by trying to make a success out of your marriage. You are young and have really not had time to get adjusted to married life. Don't give up so soon.

It was wrong to date others while your husband was in service and it is natural that he questions your love for him, even though he did forgive you. It was a blow to his pride to have you act immaturity.

Why not have a third party help to straighten things out for you? Go and talk to your minister. He may have some helpful suggestions to offer and he could also talk to your husband.

If there is a marriage consultant in your community, you might take your problem to him if your minister cannot help you. A friend of the family may be able to help you, too.

Right now, your husband is giving you a taste of your own medicine. He is letting you see that two can play the same game. It has made you come to your senses, but it may be a bit late to fix things up.

Don't give up trying until you are convinced that nothing will work. You married this man because both of you thought you were in love. That was only four short years ago. Surely, in such a short time, you and he have not changed enough to make things hopeless. Fight now to save your marriage.

Add chopped dates and nuts to softened cream cheese, then fill canned apricot halves with the mixture. Serve on water cress or other salad greens with French dressing as a salad-dessert.

School Census Shows Increase

There are 1335 children between the ages of 5 and 20 years in the City of Gladstone, according to school census taken this summer by Mrs. John Norton Jr., a report at the office of Supt. W. C. Cameron discloses.

This is 19 more than the number in the 1951 enumeration.

Girls from 5 to 19 years outnumbered the boys, 685 to 649.

In the preschool children, or those under 5 years, the boys outnumbered the girls, 310 to 291.

School census figures are used by the state in apportioning school aid monies.

House Of Commons Raises Queen's Pay

LONDON — (AP)—The House of Commons last night okayed a pay raise for Queen Elizabeth II, giving her 475,000 pounds ($1,330,000) a year to run the Royal Household.

The decision hiking the Royal budget 65,000 pounds ($182,000) over that of the late George VI came despite outraged demands by a score of Laborites that the ruler's purse be cut nearly in half—to 250,000 pounds ($700,000).

After the Conservative government's majority defeated Laborite amendments to trim the budget, the House approved it without a vote.

Rise In Lake Levels Continues This Month

LANSING — (AP)—Lakes Ontario and St. Clair reached new high water levels during June, a U. S. lake survey report showed.

Ontario went up more than an inch above the May level, taking it to about five inches above the previous high of 1870.

St. Clair rose about an inch from the May high, taking it to about seven inches above the previous recorded high of 1929.

Lakes Superior and Michigan-Huron continued a normal rise in June and are expected to reach further peaks this month.

Lake Superior moved about two inches above the May level but remained about five inches below the high of June, 1951. Lakes Michigan-Huron rose more than two inches in June but remained 15 inches below the previous high of 1886.

Battlefront Marines List Favorite Foods

WITH THE FIRST MARINE DIVISION IN KOREA—(AP)—Members of the 1st Battalion, 1st Marine Regiment, prefer "heat-and-serve" food, dehydrated soups and precooked preparations over sweets and other confections, according to a recent survey.

Cans of chili, soups, tuna, sardines and meat sandwich-spreads were rated high on the preferred list. Pepperoni was listed as favorite among meat items.

Other cherished gifts from home are sharp cheese and cheese spreads, "instant" coca, tea bags and bouillon cubes.

Seek Bids On 4 New Trucks

Bids are being sought by the Schoolcraft County Road Commission for four Federal Motor trucks, rear wheel drive, and four dump bodies to fit the trucks, it is announced.

Specifications on the equipment are available at the road commission office.

The right is reserved by the commission to accept or reject any or all bids, to waive bid defects and informalities, and to accept that bid which in the opinion of the board is in the best interest of the county.

The official notice to bidders is signed by only two members of the road commission, Henry Orschel, of Cooks, and Orley Losey, of Germfask. Harold McNamara, of Manistique, chairman of the board, said he didn't sign because he was not entirely in agreement with the bid action.

The Board of Supervisors at its June session recommended that that the road commission seek new truck bids so that equipment would be available to carry on a summer work program.

Purchase of five Federal trucks and four dump bodies last winter was halted by a temporary injunction issued by Circuit Judge Herbert W. Runnels, of Sault Ste. Marie. The injunction was sought by Schoolcraft County auto dealers.

A hearing on the temporary restraining order was held in Sault Ste. Marie last spring but a decision has not yet been issued by the circuit judge.

It has been indicated that the circuit court decision will be appealed to the State Supreme Court regardless of which side it favors. Such an appeal, it has been pointed out, could delay purchase of necessary truck equipment until next year, thereby seriously affecting the 1952 county road program, unless new bids are sought.

His Handicap Inspires Self-Help Inventions

Several inventions designed to solve everyday problems faced by handicapped persons have been developed by Robert G. Wilson, Jr., 28, of Chicago. Wilson himself is handicapped, as he is partially deaf and mute, and has one useless arm. Despite these impediments, he has earned a Master of Science degree at the Illinois Institute of Technology. Research carried on by Wilson as a graduate student of the school's Design Institute has led to the development, among other things, of the two devices shown below.

Queen Contest Entries Sought

Unmarried Schoolcraft County girls between 17 and 21, inclusive, are being sought as candidates for queen of the second annual VFW Water Festival, it is announced by Mrs. John Vaughan, queen contest chairman.

Nomination of contestants is to be made by coupons published in newspapers circulated in the Schoolcraft area. Any person may submit a nomination by filling out a coupon and mailing it to Mrs. Vaughan, 611 Oak St., on or before Sunday, July 20.

The coupon provides space for inserting the contestant's name, age, address and parents' names.

Preliminary judging is scheduled for Monday evening, July 21, at the VFW hall, N. Maple Ave. All entrants will be required to appear at the initial judging program where seven girls will be selected. Judges for this event have not yet been named.

The seven winners will participate in final judging about a week later at which time a queen will be selected. The other six girls will comprise the queen's court. It is expected that final judging will again take place at the Oak theater with a committee of non-resident judges making the final decision.

Girls will be judged on natural beauty, personality, photogenic appeal, attitude and voice.

Winner of the festival contest, it is expected, will again become Schoolcraft County's entry at the Upper Peninsula State Fair Queen contest. Last year Miss Joan Sheahan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Sheahan, was water festival queen.

Mrs. Marvin Mercier is assisting Mrs. Vaughan in making arrangements for queen contest.

The water festival will be held Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 9 and 10, at Arrowhead Inn, Indian Lake.

Cleveland Stars Will Face Tri County Veterans Today

The Cleveland Indian major league scouts conducting Escanaba's first baseball school this morning named a starting lineup of stand-out athletes to face the Tri County all-stars in a 6 o'clock clash this evening at the city diamond.

The Cleveland lineup includes star players from Escanaba, Bark River, Hermansville, Rapid River, Perronville, Powers, Garden, Traverse City, Marquette, Nahma and Trout Creek.

The cream of the baseball school candidates is included in the list which was made up after careful screening of over 40 young players who took part in the camp. Barring a few shifts or additions of new players today, the lineup is set for tonight's game.

Starters

Here's the all-star team which will take the field tonight: Jack

IF IT RAINS

In case of rain this evening, the all-star clash will be postponed to Saturday evening at 6. Cleveland Scout Nap Ross said today. The three-day school is slated to close today if the weather cooperates, however.

Dooley of Marquette will be on the mound with Jim Nyquist of Escanaba behind the plate. Jim Colby of Traverse City will be on first, Escanaba's Pete Kutches on second, John Martinac of Escanaba at third and Jack Morin of Garden at short. Outfielders will be Tippy Larmay of Escanaba, Dave Kwarciany of Bark River and Bob Corriveau of Powers.

Backing up Dooley on the mound will be Billy Vincent of Perronville and Jack Chriske of Escanaba.

Utility players who will all see action are George Anderson, Rapid River catcher; Waldon Johnson, Rapid River first baseman; Cornelius Schoy, Nahma second baseman; Tippy Legault, Escanaba shortstop; Leno Pierpon, Hermansville outfielder; Ben Cameron, Trout Creek outfielder, and Lawrence Sochay, Nahma outfielder.

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

See where the Green Bay Bluejays of the Wisconsin State League have a bonus baby on the roster. He's 19-year-old Billy Moran, Atlanta youth who reportedly received $40,000 for signing with the Cleveland Indians. In his first appearance in a twin showing at Green Bay the other night Moran, a shortstop, got one hit in seven trips, scored a run and committed two errors.

Harold Charlevoix, manager of the Foster City entry in the Tri County League, says his club is enjoying a good season at the gate. He's had one attendance which paid over $100 and has averaged around $50 for the rest of his home games.

The Cleveland Indian baseball scouts here are extremely enthusiastic about the baseball prospects in Escanaba. They definitely want to make their tryout school an annual affair, and are already laying plans for next year. One of the plans, still in the formative stage, is terrific. Nap Ross, in charge of the school, told us yesterday that he is going to make every effort to get the Cleveland team to put on an exhibition in Escanaba next Summer. It could be worked if the Indians were in Chicago on a Sunday, for instance, and would come up by train for a Monday exhibition.

As of yesterday—before the rain washed out the afternoon and evening workouts—some 43 boys had registered at the school. Ross said that was very good, in fact far better comparatively than many cities of larger size. Ann Arbor recently had only 70 young players at a major league school in that city, Ross said. Commenting on Escanaba's extensive baseball program, Ross said: "You people here in Escanaba are going to develop many minor league—and maybe some major league—players in the next four or five years. There can't be any question about that."

Ross, incidentally, is regarded as the greatest sandlot baseball player ever to come out of Detroit. Back in the early 1930s Nap, a 5-6, 135-pounder, was a sensational outfielder. He was with Milwaukee for a short stay before his playing days were over. Ross is a sincere hard-working man who love kids and knows how to work with youngsters. "We didn't have a smart aleck or a trouble maker in the school," Ross said. That's as much of a compliment to Ross and his assistants as it is to the boys who turned out for the tryout camp.

Four Remain In Publinx Tourney

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Four guys from Illinois, California, Florida and Washington teed off today in the semifinals of the unpredictable National Public Links tournament.

Scheduled to go off first in the 36-hole, next-to-last test of this week-long amateur marathon were Omar L. Bogan, furniture salesman from South Gate, Calif., and Bob Kurz, 32-year-old Eastern Air Lines pilot of Miami Springs, Fla.

Right behind will be Bob Scherer, young Illinois laborer, matching strokes with John Halin, long, lanky student from Washington State.

The winners will tankle in another 36-hole argument Saturday to decide the championship of the American municipal courses.

Scherer, the 21-year-old Decatur, Ill., workman whose pleasant manner and coolness under fire has made him a favorite, came through the quarterfinals with a 1-up victory over Tommy Bean, ex-pro from Trion, Ga., who just recently got back his amateur standing.

Par Is Shattered In St. Paul Open Meet

ST. PAUL, Minn.—(AP)—A golfer could tee off for the second 18-hole round in the St. Paul Open Golf tournament today with a neat par 72 under his belt and find himself at least 38 places back in the field.

That's how the scoring was yesterday in the starting 18 holes of the $15,000 tournament at Keller Golf course. Twenty-two players matched par—but 37 others did better.

Heading the pack with near-record 64s were Al Besselink, Escondido, Calif., pro in his third season, and Henry Ransom, St. Andrews, Ill., who has been in the business 21 years.

Soft Turf
The sub-par scores were achieved despite rainy weather before the tournament, which softened fairways and produced luxuriant rough. The travelling pros made low scores by avoiding the rough and by hot putting. Besselink in particular was happy about his putting.

"Jack Burke (a fellow pro) gets the credit and I want him to know it," Besselink said. "He gave me a putting lesson at the Motor City Tournament in Detroit last week."

Tied for second are Cary Middeoff, Memphis, Tenn., and Ted Kroll, New Hartford, N. Y., each with 65s. They also wound up in a dead heat at the end of the Motor City event last week. Middeoff won the sudden death playoff.

Snead Cards 66
Sam Snead, masters' winner, and Buddy Vlar, St. Louis, Mo., an infrequent tourney entry, came next with 66s. Three strokes off the pace with 67s were Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C., Milton Marusic, Herkimer, N. Y., and Ralph Blomquist, Eagle Rock, Calif.

In the 68 bracket were Dutch Harrison, Ardmore, Okla., Fred Hawkins, El Paso, Texas, PGA Jim Turnesa, Briarcliff, N. Y., Lawson Little, Pebble Beach, Calif., and Robert De Vincenzo, Buenos Aires. Among those grouped with Mangrum at 70 were Ellsworth Vines, Los Angeles and Freddie Haas, New Orleans.

Included in the 72 class were such well known golfers as Jim Ferrier, San Francisco, Ted Rhodes, Chicago, Jimmy Thompson, Long Beach, Calif., Dick Metz, Maple City, Kan., Skee Riegel, Tulsa, Okla., and Smiley Quick, Los Angeles.

At the end of today's 18-hole round the field will be cut to the low 60 and ties, plus Minnesota pros. The schedule calls for another 18 Saturday and the final round on Sunday.

Irish Golfer Leads British

ST. ANNE'S-ON-SEA, England —(AP)—Fred Daly, a happy-go-lucky Irishman, hoped to wrap up the British Open Gold title today in the final 36 holes of the big event.

When Daly teed off in the morning round, he was four strokes ahead of his nearest rival with a 136 after two days of competition. The ever-dangerous Bobby Locke of South Africa was No. 2 man with a 140.

Daly, who won the title in 1947, drew the Veteran Gene Sarazen as his partner.

"I couldn't wish for a better partner," said Daly when he was told the 50-year-old Germantown, N. Y., farmer would make the tour with him.

Sarazen has captured the hearts of the large audiences by his steady golf and his cheerful sportsmanship whenever his years told against him in the tough competition. He won the open 20 years ago.

Chunky Gene had a 147, 11 strokes off the pace, and two behind the top man in the American contingent, Willie Goggin of Montclair, N. J. Willie, playing his first British Open, carded a 74 yesterday and now is 10th.

Six amateurs, including Frank Stranahan, remained in the field. Stranahan had a 151 for his efforts. Britain's Jack Jones, however, headed the Simon Pures with a 143, good enough for fourth place.

Little League Twin Bill Set Saturday

Little League action was washed out by rain last night and the Rotary-Lions clash has been rescheduled for tomorrow afternoon.

The postponed game will be played as the second half of a twin bill. In the opener at 2:30 Kiwanis will go against the St. Joe Boosters.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Norwalk, Conn.—Arthur King, 129, Toronto, outpointed Armando Llanes, 136, Bogota, 10.
Bridgeport, Conn.—Don Bowman, 132, Chittenden, N. J. outpointed Eddie Compo, 135, New Haven, 8.

COACH RESIGNS

MT. PLEASANT, Mich.—(AP)—Danny Rose has resigned as Central Michigan College baseball coach, a post he held since 1938. He will devote all his time to his duties as athletic director and head basketball coach. Bill Theunissen, assistant baseball coach, will take over the head coaching job.

Students-Athletes To Get Help At Northern

MARQUETTE—Northern Michigan College has announced details of a grant-in-aid plan for student-athletes, which will go into effect this fall.

Under the terms of the cooperative plan, 24 student-athletes will be selected as recipients of aid to help them attend Northern.

This is not a scholarship. Athletic Director C. V. (Red) Money emphasizes. All academic scholarships must be taken care of by the committee appointed for that purpose, and are in no manner connected with the grant-in-aid plan.

May Also Get Scholarship
However, any athlete entering the grant-in-aid program may apply for any of the available scholarships should his high school scholastic record warrant such consideration, Money added.

Each participant in the grant-in-aid plan will live in the college housing facilities at a greatly reduced cost. Each will be assigned to work on the campus, not to exceed an average of two and one-half hours a day, six days a week.

QUESTION: When did Charley Gehring break into the majors and what was his lifetime batting average?

Answer: The Hall of Fame second baseman came up to Detroit in 1925, played through 1941. His lifetime batting average was .321. He was named the American League's most valuable player in 1937. The Silent Tiger batted .321 in World Series competition, had a .500 average for six All-Star games.

Q. How many World Series games did Frank Frisch participate in?
A. The Fordham Flash played in 50, managed St. Louis' Gas House Gang to a Series championship in 1934.

Kansas City Star In Batting Spree

(By The Associated Press)
It would do the New York Yankees well to keep an eye on slugging first sacker Don Bollweg of their top spot Kansas City Farm Club in the American Association.

Bollweg, sent down by the Yankees for further seasoning, last night slammed his 15th homer, his 11th and 12th triples and his 16th double to drive across six runs in the Blues' 12-5 win over Louisville. His .359 nearly heads the Association batting race.

Kansas City's 17-hit victory over the Colonels moved the Blues 2½ games ahead of the slipping Milwaukee Brewers, who suffered their fifth straight loss in a 12-inning, 5-4, defeat by the Indianapolis Indians.

Gold Cup Purse Is $100,000

INGLEWOOD, Calif.—(AP)—The $100,000 Gold Cup handicap an event that highlights the racing calendar in the West each summer comes off tomorrow at Hollywood Park with about a dozen horses shooting at the rich target.

This 1952 edition of the Gold Cup promises to offer more glamour in the stands than aristocracy on the race track itself, topflight thoroughbred horseflesh being a scarce article throughout the nation in these times.

But 50,000 or more spectators, dotted with the usual Hollywood Park patrons from the world of entertainment, the arts, social circles and abandoned handbooks, are expected to sit in on things and make them as lively as possible.

There won't be a Citation in the race, becoming the sport's first millionaire, as occurred last year. There won't be a great come-from-behind Noor, as in 1950, or, to go back over the years, a Seabiscuit or a Challeon to grace the winner's circle.

The brightest celebrities in the race figure to be a couple of famed and sprightly, if somewhat elderly, ladies from Mrs. Warren Wright's Calumet Farm, Two Lea and Wistful.

The 6-year-old mares may be running their last race, and for Two Lea, it could well be a winning goodbye. Trainer Jimmy Jones has indicated both will be retired to their Kentucky homeland.

Students-Athletes To Get Help At Northern

This work will bring in financial aid sufficient to pay all but a small portion of the weekly board cost, Money stated.

Eat In College Cafeteria
Grant-in-aid plan participants will eat their meals in the college cafeteria in the Lee-Carey Hall building. Money pointed out that this will be a factor in providing proper food for athletes.

Those who are accepted for the grant-in-aid program will furnish their own bedding—blankets, sheets, pillow-cases, etc., and the fuel cost for heating purposes will be pro-rated among the 24 men living in the barracks.

A token rental of $1 a week will be charged by the college. Money said those in the grant-in-aid program will be subject to such regulations as are deemed necessary to have the plan operate successfully.

Athletes with a "C" or better average in high school will be given first consideration, and since only a limited number of men will be taken care of under the plan it is important that all those who are interested should fill out the necessary questionnaire as soon as possible, Money pointed out.

A careful check of each applicant will be made before he is accepted for the program.

The following figures show the value of the grant-in-aid plan. The first column lists the costs to those not in the program and the second column gives the figures for those who will receive grants-in-aid:

	Regular Plan	Aid
Tuition and fees	$ 70	$ 70
Meals (18 weeks)	225	36
(Plus work)
Room (18 weeks)	54	18
Books, supplies, etc.	20	20

Cost, one semester $369 $144
Cost, one college year, $736 $288
"A boy who wishes to have a college education and participate in athletics may do so under this plan," Money said. "If he has good grades it is possible for him to qualify for an academic scholarship which would reduce his financial outlay by $37.50 a semester or $75 a year."

Grant-in-aid applications may be received by writing to or calling at the college athletic department, Northern Michigan College, Marquette, Mich.

Tigers Rained Out Yesterday

BOSTON—(AP)—Manager Fred Hutchinson of the Detroit Tigers called upon Ted Gray (8-8) and Art Houtteman (4-11) today to oppose the Boston Red Sox in a double-header that will begin a seven-day stint against pennant contenders.

Nine games are scheduled in those seven days, including a double-header with the Yankees in New York Saturday, as well as today's twin bill.

The No. 1 item on Hutchinson's agenda was victory in today's first game. That would give the Tigers something they haven't enjoyed all season, three victories in a row.

Hutchinson, a relief pitcher, was named last Saturday to replace Red Rolfe as manager of the tail-end Tigers. Promptly Detroit whipped the St. Louis Browns Saturday night and again Sunday. Then came a four-day holiday for the All-Star game at Philadelphia and rain which washed out last night's scheduled game here.

Today's first game will replace the one rained out last night.

So far this year, the Red Sox have whipped the Tigers nine out of 11 games, but Hutchinson said determinedly: "We intend to change that."

Don Kolloway will replace Jerry Priddy at second base. Priddy broke his leg Sunday and today's will be the first game he has missed in more than 300 since joining the Tigers in 1950.

Hutchinson said the question of calling Al Federoff up from Buffalo of the International League was being discussed but it had been decided to "wait a while."

Departure of Tiger General Manager Charley Gehring for Cincinnati from the All-Star game caused speculation that a deal may be cooking to obtain a National League infielder via the waiver route, but Detroit executives declined comment.

International Hurler Proving Browns Wrong

(By The Associated Press)
Johnny Hetki is proving the St. Louis Browns made a mistake when they sold him back to the Toronto Maple Leafs shortly after the 1952 season opened.

Hetki was the International League's top winner in 1951 with 19 triumphs. This earned him a promotion to St. Louis but after a few appearances he was shipped back to the Leafs and once again he threatens, despite his late start, to lead the loop in triumphs.

The veteran righthander turned in his 10th victory of the season compared to one defeat last night, shading the Syracuse Chiefs, 3-2, in 11 innings before the largest crowd of the season in the league, 20,218 fans.

Marinette Game Set For Monday

Rain yesterday forced a revision in A.I.'s Bark River Legion schedule, with several changes announced this morning by Manager Mac MacComber.

A.I.'s was slated to face the strong Marinette Legion club at Bark River at 6:30 yesterday. The game has been postponed to Monday evening at 6:30.

Tomorrow afternoon at 5:45 A.I.'s will face Bark River's Waubung Legion entry at the Bark River diamond. MacComber will send 14-year-old Lawrence Sauvey to the mound for the first time this season. He will be opposed by Bark River's Wayne Erickson.

A return match between the same two teams will be played at the Escanaba city diamond Wednesday evening.

A.I.'s will enter American Legion Junior district tournament play next week at Menominee, facing the Escanaba Cubs in first round play.

In other Sunday Waubung League action the Cubs will travel to Perronville and Gladstone will be at Powers.

Rademacher To Pitch Against Esky Sunday

BARK RIVER—Manager Leo Knauf today named Joe Rademacher to open on the mound against the Escanaba Bears in Sunday's feature Tri County League clash here at 2:30.

Rademacher, veteran righthander, will be backed up by Dave Kwarciany behind the plate. Don Paulin at first, Jim Greenwood at second, Tippy Legault at short, George Cavadeas at third, Ben Kleiman, Louie Derocher and Bob Wickstrom in the outfield.

The Bears will be defending their Tri County League lead against the second-place Bears. A win for Escanaba would reverse the order at the top of the standings.

Varied Field In State Amateur Golf Tourney

CHARLEVOIX — (AP)—You'll find everything from an unemployed shipping clerk to the owner of a factory playing in the final three days of the Michigan amateur golf championship.

In fact a labor union president by the name of Len Cunningham, Detroit, and a plumbing salesman by the name of John Short, Jackson, won medalist honors in the 36 holes of qualifying play that ended yesterday. Both unknown golfers are 28 and scored par 144s.

A field of 32 of the original 197 entrants survived the two days of qualifying and moved in to match play that started today and runs five rounds through Sunday.

Top Match

The top first round match sent former champion Tom Draper, 37, Detroit paint salesman, against Harold Brink, 40, Grand Rapids auto dealer who in 14 state amateur tournaments reached the finals twice but never won. Draper 147 and Brink 151 in qualifying.

Thirteen golfers who qualified last year made it again. The oldest qualifier was C. A. Benedict, 50, Muskegon insurance agent, who shot 153, highest qualifying score.

A sudden-death playoff was required among five golfers with 153 to thin the field. Fritz Kimling, Grand Haven, lost out on the second hole.

Youngest Qualifier
Youngest qualifier was 19-year-old Richard Norton, Purdue University golfer from Grand Rapids. His score was 152.

Three other collegians made it. They were Tony Novitsky, 22, University of Detroit, 148; Jack Gregory, 24, Wayne, 148; and Harold Ware, 22, Michigan State student from Mason, 151.

The first day leader, little Mickey McMillen of Midland, shipped from 70 to a 77 for a 147 total. He was tied with Draper and Dick Whiting of Detroit.

Just behind pacemakers Cunningham and Short was Ray Palmer, 39, a factory owner from Grosse Ile. Palmer failed to qualify last year but shot 75-71—146 this time.

The unemployed shipping clerk is Stan Toczkowski, 25, from Grand Rapids, who had a 151.

Browns Go Down, Cards Go Up

Both St. Louis Clubs Move

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

The rival St. Louis clubs, under new managers, are going in opposite directions.

The Cardinals, led by firebrand Eddie Stanky, are riding on the crest of a 10-game winning streak and are making rapid strides in their effort to overtake the National League leading Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants.

The Browns, skipped by mild-mannered Marty Marion, their second manager of the campaign, are in the throes of a nine-game losing string that threatens to drop them into the American league cellar.

Twelfth Victory
Gerry Staley became the first National Leaguer to register a dozen victories when he pitched the Cardinals to a 10-3 triumph over the Philadelphia Phillies last night. Third baseman Billy Johnson drove in four runs with a triple, double and single as the Cards drove all-star hero Curt Simmons from the mound with a four-run first inning.

The victory, coupled with Chicago's 7-6 win over Brooklyn and Pittsburgh's 6-4 triumph over New York, moved the Cards to within eight games of the Dodgers and three and a half of the second place Giants. Cincinnati rounded out National League activities with a 5-3 win over Boston.

Chicago's hustling White Sox swept a two-night doubleheader from the Senators in Washington, 2-0 and 4-2, to cut the New York Yankees' first place margin in the American League to two and a half games. The Yankees drubbed the Browns, 10-2. The Philadelphia Athletics thrashed Cleveland, 11-1 as lefty Alex Kellner checked the Indians with four hits. Detroit and the Red Sox were rained out in Boston.

Rush Shelled
All-Star game winner Bob Rush of Chicago and no-hit Carl Erskine of Brooklyn were knocked out of the box in a 45-minute first inning as the Cubs came from behind to nip the Dodgers. Gene Hermanski, ex-Dodger, collected three hits and drove in what proved to be the deciding run in the three-run fourth. Catcher Toby Atwell, sold by Brooklyn to Chicago last winter, cut down a potential Dodger base stealer in the sixth, seventh and eighth innings to help Johnny Klippstein gain his sixth win. Klippstein took over after Jackie Robinson rapped a three-run homer in the first off Rush and hurled 8 2/3 innings.

Jim Hearn, of the Giants, had a shutout as Pittsburgh came to bat in the last of the ninth, but the Pirates rapped him for four runs to force the game into overtime and won in the 12th when Gus Bell slammed a two-out, two-run homer off reliever George Spencer. A double by Ralph Kiner, a triple by Joe Garagiola and singles by Jack Merson and Tony Bartirome produced the four runs in the ninth. The Giants loaded the bases with none out in the 10th but Ted Wilks escaped without a run as he got Don Mueller to hit into a force play at the plate and made Al Dark and Sal Yvars pop up.

Berra Homers
Roy McMillan singled in two runs in the eighth following a double error by second baseman Sibby Sisti to gave the Reds their 5-3 victory over the Braves. Ken Raffensberger spaced eight hits for his 10th success.

Yogi Berra hammered his 16th home run and Billy Martin hit his second to lead the Yankees to their win over the Browns. Bob Kuzava yielded nine hits for his fifth triumph, his fourth in succession.

Billy Pierce racked up his 10th win and Saul Rogovin his eighth as the White Sox won their sixth and seventh games in a many starts in Washington this season. Pierce allowed only two hits and Rogovin six.

Elmer Valo of the A's had a perfect day against Cleveland's Early Wynn and Sam Jones. The Philadelphia outfielder hit a triple, two singles, walked twice in five times at bat. He drove in four and scored thrice.

Senior Golfers Show Form In Tournament
CHICAGO — (AP)—A crowd of spry oldsters are proving that golf isn't necessarily a young man's game in the Western Senior Golf Association's annual 36-hole tourney which ends today.

For instance, two of five shooters in the 75-and-over age bracket cracked 100 in yesterday's opening 18-hole round at Edgewater Golf club.

H. L. Simmons of Indianapolis stroked a scratch 89, while R. M. Noll, Marietta, Ohio, had a 95 which with an 18 stroke handicap gave him the best net of the group, 77.

Three marathon runners, headed by Veikko Karvonen, 26, a postman, may be swept along by Finnish tradition to upset the world distance runners.

Karvonen has a best time of two hours 28:07.4, well under the Olympic mark of 2:29:19.2 set by Japan's Kiet Son in 1936. But clockings in these races have little meaning in forecasts. Immediate factors such as weather and blistered feet carry more weight than past performances.

Running with Karvonen will be Erkki Puolakka, 27, a foreman, and Mikko Hietanen, 31, a munitions worker.

The Finns were pleasantly surprised when an unheard-of shop foreman, Urho Julin, 24, won their 3,000 meter steeplechase trials in 9:00.6 to bring him into the select group given a chance in this event. However, the Russian Vladimir Kazantsev has been clocked in under 8:50 and the German Helmut Gude as well as the Swede Curt Soederberg are flirting with 8:50.

Yet, running in their own beautiful Olympic stadium the Finns may rise to the occasion.

Surprisingly, many Finns put their hopes in the javelin on the strong shoulders of Toivo Hytti-anen, 27-year-old farmer, whose best mark is 74.55 meters (244 feet 7.1 inches). They feel that while Nikkanen has the best technique, Hyttiainen is the better competitor.

The golden days when Paavo Nurmi and Willie Ritola led the durable Finns to world glory in athletics are past. However, at this pre-game stage Finland feels confident it will take at least one gold medal—the javelin—and be a definite threat in the marathon, the steeplechase, hop-step-and-jump and distance races.

The Finns have entered 60 in track and field. Among them is Soino Nikkinen, 29-year-old railroad switchman who has the best recent mark anywhere in the world for the javelin. Last year he threw the spear 75.92 meters (249 feet 1 inch) which compares well with the world mark of 78.7 meters (258 feet 3 3/8 inches) set in 1938 by another Finn with a similar name—Yrjo Nikkanen.

Olympic Boxers Study International Rules

HELSINKI—(AP)—American boxers, hoping to capture at least four gold medals in the Olympics, are going to concentrate on learning international rules.

"From now until the matches start July 28, the boys are going to work fully under international rules," said team manager Dr. Barry Barrodale of Houma, La., today. Co-coaches Pete Mello of New York and Jim Owen of Louisiana State nodded their heads in agreement.

"We've lost many a chance at titles in the last two games because of minor infractions," said Barrodale. "The referee warns you once for something like not taking a full step back on the break. Then if you hit and hold, or push off on the break, or bob and weave below the waist, then they can disqualify you—and do for the second violation."

Spieser Lost

"In the '48 games, Austin Jones knocked a guy cold and then was disqualified for hitting with an open glove," the manager added. "Charley Spieser of Michigan State floored a guy four times and lost because of an eye cut that wasn't bad."

"We haven't won a title since 1932 and this time we think we can take four. We don't want to take any chances. Spieser, the only repeater on the team, looks good to us to win the 125-pound division."

"Floyd Patterson (of New York) is out of this world. He knocked out all eight of his opponents in the 165 pound trials. Brother, if he doesn't win, the guy who beats him will have to be something super-special."

Best Balance
"I've been watching amateur boxing since 1932 and this is the best balanced squad we've ever had."

Mello, of the CYO gym in New York, echoed the statement. Pete has seen them since 1920.

Uncle Sam hasn't won a first in boxing since 1932 when Eddie Flynn won the welterweight title and Carmen Bath scored in the middleweight division.

"The drought is going to end for sure," said Mello. "The boys are going to act nice but they are going to belt 'em out if they can. And we've got the boys who can do it."

Californians Dominate Clay Courts Finals

CHICAGO—(AP)—Californians compose half the eight-player field in today's quarterfinals of the National Clay Courts Tennis tourney, but a top-seeded Easterner and a Japanese David Copper were the hottest contenders.

Still the man to beat was Dick Savitt, Orange, N. J., the nation's No. 2 player, first-ranked in this event, who moved against fifth-seeded Grant Golden of Wilmette, Ill.

But Savitt's play at River Forest Tennis Club this week—only four games dropped in 40 played during three rounds—has been duplicated exactly by Japan's No. 1 Davis Copper, Jino Kumamaru.

NCAA Champ
Kumamaru's quarterfinal foe is Hugh Stewart, Southern California's NCAA champion, from San Marino, Calif., who is fourth-seeded.

Should both triumph, Savitt and Kumamaru will clash in a lower bracket semifinal tomorrow.

The other bracket's quarterfinal activity sends second-seeded Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., against the lone unseeded survivor, Jack Frost of Monterey, Calif., and the fourth remaining Californian, Noel Brown of Los Angeles, against Australia's Don Candy.

Brown, third-seeded, looms as the big hurdle to Larsen's expected title showdown Sunday with Savitt. Winner of the Tri-State tourney last Sunday at Cincinnati, ex-pro Brown has been puzzling foes with what he calls his "garbage ball," a tricky assortment of soft stuff.

Great Tennis
Savitt and Kumamaru have played almost flawless tennis in their sweep through the first three rounds. Of the Jap's four games lost out of 40, three were recorded yesterday in beating Don Kaiser of Louisville, Ky., 6-1, 6-2.

At one time in Savitt's 6-1, 6-0 waltz yesterday over Harrison Bows of Highland Park, Ill., the New Jersey swinger scored 11 straight points.

The semifinal field already has been determined in the women's singles. It's headed by top-seeded Anita Kanter of Modesto, Calif., whose foe is a gal from Anita's own home town, Joan Mercierdes.

The other match pits Lucille Davidson, Lee's Summit, Mo., fourth-seeded, against Chicago's Lonny Wang.

Savitt and Candy were the favored tandem as the men's doubles moved into the quarterfinal round.

Escanaban Tells Of Teaching In Germany

By JANIS BERGMAN

Miss Ruth Adele Drake, daughter of Mrs. F. W. Drake, 616 S. 10th St., has returned home after two years of teaching American children in Bamberg, Germany. Bamberg is in the northern province of Bavaria, near Nurnberg, the seat of the famous war trials.

Miss Drake is an Escanaba high school and Northern Michigan College of Education graduate. She was teaching high school in Mt. Clemens when she heard of the civil service exams being given for teachers interested in serving in an exchange capacity. She passed creditably and found herself teaching American children of the state department officials and of American personnel stationed in Bamberg.

The Americans, Miss Drake soon learned, were very clique-minded and not given to much visiting with the German families of Bamberg. She says that more effort should have been made by the Americans, but that she did get to meet German teachers who were observing American teaching methods in her school.

No Switch For Pupils
German teachers were amazed, Miss Drake related, that the American children mind their teacher without benefit of a switch. "But then," as one German told her, "Freedom, you Americans have that."

One of the German teachers who formerly lived in Dresden and who married a German officer during the war, worked for the German army. This teacher, Miss Drake says, couldn't get over the difference between the American and German armies—especially in that an American private could conceivably be somebody famous in civilian life.

A German music teacher friend of Miss Drake spent most of the time during the war deep in a bomb shelter beneath her home. The signs indicating the bomb shelters are still distinctly visible all through the city, Miss Drake states.

Miss Drake lived in a hotel, one of three in the city occupied by the Americans. The hotel was very up to date, complete with bath-rooms, which was more than many Germans had. The average German bathes at the "stadtbad," the public bath and he pays for it, too. Soap is an extremely expensive item.

The food, she reports, was good both at the hotel and at German restaurants, provided one could afford it. The restaurants usually provided small orchestras as an added attraction.

Clothes, Food Expensive
German living conditions were, however, another story. Many families had to double up with displaced persons. And it wasn't unusual to find four families in a one family home. The German government and the American occupation saw to it that the displaced persons were given room, even if it did inconvenience the German family. This increased the feeling of antagonism all the way around—toward the D. P.'s and the Americans too.

Clothes, food, all are expensive for the German family—the women work long hours in the fields around Bamberg, while the men work in the factories. Their biggest diversion is walking. Every Sunday the German father takes his whole family for a stroll around the town. The heavy shoes they all wear undoubtedly come in handy, commented Miss Drake.

Having travelled extensively through Europe on her vacations, Miss Drake feels that the Germans in Bamberg are a very sober lot indeed—far more so than many of the other occupied countries she visited.

Of course, Miss Drake acknowledged, the Germans can't afford to entertain either, but would visit her, presenting her with huge bouquets of flowers.

Paris, Venice, Verona, Capri, Sorrento, have been a part of her itinerary. The French Riviera, a famous play spot, may be wonderful but Miss Drake says, "It's like a big circus. I'll take a beach in Michigan any time. The Mediterranean was warm for swimming, though."

She was much impressed with the friendliness of the Swiss who had much in the way of luxuries to sell, but far too expensive for even the Americans to buy. Copenhagen, Denmark was very gay compared to Bamberg. The Germans in the Tyrol seem happier, perhaps because they didn't lose their possessions so completely, commented Miss Drake.

Even in Italy, Casino, in particular, the people were gay. Formerly built on the hill (it had been demolished in the Italian campaign), it was now built in the valley. One old man stopped Miss Drake and gaily asked her, "You American? Sister in Boston for 50 years! Good!"

Miss Drake plans to return to Germany sometime in August, but not to Bamberg. This time she's going to teach in Stuttgart.

Style note for Yorkshires is that their hair must be longer than the dog is tall, and the curls keep the hair from breaking.

George Weingartner Hurt In Accident

ROCK—George Weingartner of Rock was hospitalized Tuesday evening, July 8, after being involved in an auto accident near Trenary with Thorval Hansen of Lathrop. The two men were returning from a trip to Shelter Bay near Munising in Hansen's car when it suddenly went off the road and rolled down an embankment. Both men were thrown from the car. Mr. Hansen escaped without injury but Mr. Weingartner received lacerations about the head and was admitted to St. Francis hospital in Escanaba suffering from shock. X-rays showed no evidence of any broken bones. The auto involved was completely demolished.

Divorcee, 28, Nabbed For Love Of Boy, 17

PHOENIX, Ariz.—A shapely, blonde divorcee, 28, and her 17-year-old, high school boy sweetheart were expected to be returned to Los Angeles today to face court proceedings stemming from their cross-country romance.

The woman, slim Mrs. Virginia Le Tourneau, is charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor. The boy for whom she has avowed her love, six-foot 3-inch

James Eldon Eherwin, is accused of being a delinquent.

Jack Livingston, chief investigator for the Los Angeles district attorney's office, is coming to Phoenix to take custody of the couple.

The pair disappeared from their Burbank, Calif., homes last May 24 after the boy's parents had attempted to break up their romance.

They traveled some 10,000 miles before they were picked up here Wednesday night in a fist-swinging melee with detectives on Phoenix streets.
